On Naomi S. Baron, 2010-03-03 Baron reveals that online and mobile technologies including instant messaging cell phones multitasking Facebook blogs and wikis are profoundly influencing how we read and write speak and listen but not in the ways we might suppose She reveals that email IM and text messaging have had surprisingly little impact on student writing More troubling is the myriad ways in which we block incoming IMs and screen incoming calls Our ability to decide who to talk to she argues is likely to have a lasting influence on the way we communicate with one another Also what kind of people will we become if the relationships we form must increasingly compete for our attention with digital media Always Know

Melinda Estabrooks, 2021-02-01 Listening Learning Leaning In Amplifying Authenticity Courage Inclusion Faith This is what See Hear Love is all about It s not just a TV show or a podcast but a community of brave women and men who long for justice peace inclusion hope and love Their voices matter Their stories and lives are inspiring wise and life changing This collection of stories is made up of more than just words It s made up of experiences and learnings that have been held open handed to God the master storyteller of life and transformation In this collection Host Melinda Estabrooks and fifty guests and friends share encouraging and practical ways to Know that you are loved and valued by God Live an open handed life Overcome shame and find hope Choose joy and freedom Be brave Love your neighbour Lead well And as you read these stories always know that you are seen heard and deeply loved by God On Translation Di JIN, Eugene Albert NIDA, 2006-03-01

Following the theoretical framework Nida had developed over decades of work on translation and semiotics the two authors offer an easily comprehensible analysis of the complex problems involved in translation After a critical review of the historical development of translation theory in the light of modern information theory they elucidate the most fundamental principles of translation in accordance with the concept of dynamic equivalence The treatment is closely related to actual translation practice and the principles elucidated are applicable to all types of translation though most of the examples analyzed are taken from translations between Chinese and English This new and expanded edition has two main parts Part I is the complete text of the original work as published in the early 1980s Part II consists of six of Professor Jin s more recent essays which provide further insights into the principle of equivalent effect and its applications in literary translation Particular attention is paid to practical procedures and the extremely complex relationship between creative translation and real fidelity Published by City University of Hong Kong Press Always Hungry, Never Greedy Miriam Kahn, 1993-12-30 The Wamira people of Papua New Guinea display what outsiders would describe as an obsession with food Who owns how many pigs how much taro grows in whose garden and who contributes what food at a feast are all questions uppermost in their thoughts Wamirans account for this preoccupation by saying that they suffer from perpetual famine They explain this by means of an elaborate and colorful myth about Tamodukorokoro a monster who would have brought them abundant food but whom in typical Wamiran style of fearing what they desire they chased away In this carefully crafted and beautifully evocative book Kahn who lived with the Wamira people for two and a half years argues that Wamirans famine has in fact little to do with the belly For Wamirans concepts of food and hunger are cultural constructs By means of food they objectify emotions balance relations between men and women communicate rivalries among men and ultimately control the ambivalent desires that they fear would otherwise control them Effectively combining analyses of myths and symbols with analytical accounts of subsistence and ritual behavior Kahn writes with a degree of nuance that takes the reader beyond academic analyses into the experience of the ethnographer and the daily lives of the people with whom she resided

Always the Mountains David Rothenberg, 2007-04-01 David Rothenberg is one of our most eloquent observers of the interplay between nature culture and technology These nineteen pieces exemplify what has been called Rothenberg's amiable mix of interests styles and approaches In settings that range from wildest Norway to his own front porch in upstate New York Rothenberg discusses the Hudson River School of painters the hazy provenance of Chief Seattle's famous speech ecoterrorism suburbia the World Wide Web and much more He asks if we can save a place less obtrusively than by turning it into a park He muses on the plight of a pacifist beset by a swarm of mosquitoes He ascends Mt Ventoux with Petrarch and Mt Katahdin with Thoreau In Always the Mountains Rothenberg dares us to enjoy the fundamental uncertainty that grounds human existence to wean ourselves from the habit of simple answers and embrace the world's vastness Everything You

Always Wanted to Know About Lacan (But Were Afraid to Ask Hitchcock) Slavoj Žižek, 2020-05-05 The contributors bring to bear an unrivaled enthusiasm and theoretical sweep on the entire Hitchcock oeuvre analyzing movies such as Rear Window and Psycho Starting from the premise that everything has meaning the authors examine the films' ostensible narrative content and formal procedures to discover a rich proliferation of hidden ideological and psychic mechanisms But Hitchcock is also a bait to lure the reader into a serious Marxist and Lacanian exploration of the construction of meaning An extraordinary landmark in Hitchcock studies this new edition features a brand new essay by philosopher Slavoj Žižek presenter of Sophie Fiennes's three part documentary The Pervert's Guide to Cinema
