Imagination in German Romanticism Jeanne Riou, 2004 In German Romanticism the imagination is the site of the encounter between the subject and its environment this book examines that encounter Dealing with both literary and philosophical texts it argues that the Romantic imagination performs a critique of rationalism In reflecting on the fragmentary the Romantics require the reader to both imagine and to question this as a hermeneutic process As such they understand writing to be an experiment in memory both individual and cultural This book is a study of the writings of E T A Hoffmann Novalis Tieck and also of the utopian project of Romanticism itself Methodologically it is informed by what Foucault termed the archaeological approach to discourse as well as by psychoanalysis and literary theory Examining points of contact as well of divergence between Kantian epistemology and Romantic nature philosophy it also highlights the correspondences between literature philosophy and science Above all it treats Romanticism as an experiment in the portrayal of ambivalent modern identity
