Anna Halprin Dance Process Form:

Anna Halprin Ursula Schorn, Ronit Land, Gabriele Wittmann, 2014-09-21 This book considers the creative work and therapeutic and pedagogical approach of Anna Halprin a dancer choreographer and early pioneer in the expressive arts healing movement It looks at her Life Art Process and the wider impact of her work across the fields of art education therapy and politics

Anna Halprin Libby Worth, Helen Poynor, 2018-06-13 Anna Halprin traces the life's work of this radical dance maker documenting her early career as a modern dancer in the 1940s through to the development of her groundbreaking approach to dance as an accessible and life enhancing art form Now revised and reissued this book sketches the evolution of the San Francisco Dancers Workshop exploring Halprin's connections with the avant garde theatre music visual art and architecture of the 1950s and 60s offers a detailed analysis of Halprin's work from this period provides an important historical guide to a time when dance was first explored beyond the confines of the theatre and considered as a healing art for individuals and communities As a first step towards critical understanding and an initial exploration before going on to further primary research Routledge Performance Practitioners offer unbeatable value for today's student

Creation - Transformation - Theology Margit Eckholt, 2022 The social and cultural challenges posed by the increasing threat to creation climate change destruction of biodiversity etc are the starting point for new philosophical ethical and theological reflections on the relationship between God human beings and the world as presented in this volume God's creative impulse which transforms anew is at work in the actions of human beings and challenges us in view of the threat to the house of life earth to go new ways that make a common and good life possible Creation and transformation are interrelated an ecological theology of creation and practice of sustainability to be developed in the European context is to be embedded in the horizon of a global liberating theology

Anna Halprin Janice Ross, 2007-02-12 Anna Halprin pioneered what became known as postmodern dance creating work that was key to unlocking the door to experimentation in theater music Happenings and performance art This first comprehensive biography examines Halprin's fascinating life in the context of American culture in particular popular culture and the West Coast as a center of artistic experimentation from the Beats through the Hippies Janice Ross chronicles Halprin's long remarkable career beginning with the dancer's grandparents who escaped Eastern European pogroms and came to the United States at the turn of the last century and ending with the present day when Halprin continues to defy boundaries between artistic genres as well as between participants and observers As she follows Halprin's development from youth into old age Ross describes in engrossing detail the artist's roles as dancer choreographer performance theorist community leader cancer survivor healer wife and mother Halprin's friends and acquaintances include a number of artists who charted the course of postmodern performance Among her students were Trisha Brown Simone Forti Yvonne Rainer Meredith Monk and Robert Morris Ross brings to life the vital sense of experimentation during this period She also illuminates the work of Anna Halprin's husband the important landscape architect Lawrence Halprin in the context of his wife's environmental dance work Using Halprin's dance practices and works as her focus Ross explores the effects of danced stories on the bodies who perform them The result is an innovative consideration of how experience becomes performance as well as a masterful account of an extraordinary life

vanguard postmodern dancer turned community artist and healer has created ground breaking dances with communities all over the world Here she presents her philosophy and experience as well as step by step processes for bringing people together to create dances that foster individual and group well being At the heart of this book are accounts of two dances the Planetary Dance which continues to be performed throughout the world and Circle the Earth The Circle the Earth workshop for people living with AIDS has generated dozens of scores for others to adapt In addition the book provides a concrete guide to Halprin's celebrated Planetary Dance Now more than 35 years old Planetary Dance promotes peace among people and peace with the Earth Open to everyone it has been performed in more than 50 countries In 1995 more than 400 participants joined her in a Planetary Dance in Berlin commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Potsdam Agreements at the end of World War II More recently she took the Planetary Dance to Israel bringing together Israelis and Palestinians as well as other nationalities Throughout this book Halprin shows how dance can be a powerful tool for healing learning and mobilizing change and she offers insight and advice on facilitating groups If we are to survive Halprin argues we must learn experientially how our individual stories weave together and strengthen the fabric of our collective body Generously illustrated with photographs charts and scores this book will be a boon to dance therapists educators and community artists of all types

Introduces various programs and activities designed to awaken the links between mind, body and spirit including sensory therapies, subtle energy practices, massage, movement therapy, methods, martial arts, yoga, meditation and creative arts therapies The Body Can Speak Annelise Mertz, 2002

The contributors to this book attest that movement is our first language. The book gives a voice to teachers, authors, dancers, directors, actors and choreographers who share their experiences while they address creative movement education Moving Sites Victoria Hunter, 2015-03-27

Moving Sites explores site specific dance practice through a combination of analytical essays and practitioner accounts of their working processes. In offering this joint effort of theory and practice, it aims to provide dance academics, students and practitioners with a series of discussions that shed light both on approaches to making this type of dance practice and evaluating and reflecting on it. The edited volume combines critical thinking from a range of perspectives including commentary and observation from the fields of dance studies, human geography and spatial theory in order to present interdisciplinary discourse and a range of critical and practice-led lenses through which this type of work can be considered and explored. In so doing, this book addresses the following questions: How do choreographers make site specific dance performance? What occurs when a moving body engages with site, place and environment? How might we interpret, analyse and evaluate this type of dance practice through a range of theoretical lenses? How can this type of practice inform wider discussions of embodiment, site, space, place and environment? This innovative and exciting book seeks to move beyond description and discussion of site specific dance as a spectacle or novelty and considers site dance as a valid and vital form of contemporary dance practice that explores, reflects, disrupts, contests and develops understandings and practices of inhabiting and engaging with a range of sites and environments. Dr Victoria Hunter is Senior Lecturer in Dance at the University of Chichester.
