Question 1

1 point

Many do you think the profit margin for Anagene's cartridges has been fluctuating? Is likely attributable to the actual number of cartridges sold at this cartridge company, or because of the existing system they are using to calculate the cost?

The actual number of cartridges sold at this cartridge company has changed. The company revised the estimated number of cartridges produced and revised the calculation of the cost per unit. This led to the estimated marginal revenue change. Finally, company revenue (the number of cartridges sold) should be multiplied by the price per unit.
