Authorship in Context K. Hadjiafxendi, P. Mackay, 2007-03-06 Theories of authorship and material culture provide the framework for this study. It maps Anglo American authorship as it shifts from a theoretical to a more material approach to its study in contexts recognized as key to its development: the nineteenth century literary market place, twentieth century experimentalism and postmodern culture.

Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg, 2023-02-07 While many live action films portray disability as a spectacle, crip animation a genre of animated films that celebrates disabled people's lived experiences uses a variety of techniques like clay animation, puppets, pixilation and computer generated animation to represent the inner worlds of people with disabilities. Crip animation has the potential to challenge the ableist gaze and immerse viewers in an alternative bodily experience. In Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg analyzes over 30 animated works about disabilities including Rocks in My Pockets, An Eyeful of Sound and A Shift in Perception. He considers the ableism of live action cinematography, the involvement of filmmakers with disabilities in the production process and the evocation of the spectators' senses of sight and hearing consequently subverting traditional spectatorship and listenership hierarchies. In addition, Greenberg explores physical and sensory accessibility in theaters and suggests new ways to accommodate cinematic screenings. Offering an introduction to disability studies and crip theory for film media and animation scholars, Animated Film and Disability demonstrates that crip animation has the power to breach the spectator's comfort, evoking awareness of their own bodies and in certain cases their social privileges.

The Palgrave Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum. It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject. Core areas treated include film ontology, film structure, psychology, authorship, narrative and viewer emotion. Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality, video games and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters. Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues, film's kinship to other art forms and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film. Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject.

Introduction to

Film Studies Jill Nelmes, 2012-03-12 Introduction to Film Studies is a comprehensive textbook for students of cinema. This completely revised and updated fifth edition guides students through the key issues and concepts in film studies, traces the historical development of film, and introduces some of the world's key national cinemas. A range of theories and theorists are presented from Formalism to Feminism, from Eisenstein to Deleuze. Each chapter is written by a subject specialist, including two new authors for the fifth edition. A wide range of films are analysed and discussed. It is lavishly illustrated with 150 film stills and production shots in full colour throughout. Reviewed widely by teachers in the field and with a foreword by Bill Nichols, it will be essential reading for any introductory student of film and media studies or the visual arts worldwide. Key features of the fifth edition are updated coverage of a wide range of concepts, theories, and issues in film studies; in-depth discussion of the contemporary film industry and technological changes; new chapters on Film and Technology and Latin American Cinema; new case studies on films such as District 9, Grizzly Man, Amores Perros, Avatar, Made in Dagenham, and many others; marginal key terms; notes; cross-referencing; suggestions for further reading; further viewing; and a comprehensive glossary and bibliography. A new improved companion website including popular case studies and chapters from previous editions, including chapters on German Cinema and The French New Wave, links to supporting sites, clips, questions, and useful resources. Individual chapters include: The Industrial Contexts of Film Production; Film and Technology; Getting to the Bigger Picture; Film Form and Narrative; Spectator, Audience, and Response; Cinematic authorship and the film auteur; Stardom and Hollywood Cinema; Genre Theory and Hollywood Cinema; The Documentary Form; The Language of Animation; Gender and Film; Lesbian and Gay Cinema; Spectacle, Stereotypes, and Films of the African Diaspora; British Cinema; Indian Cinema; Latin American Cinema; Soviet Montage Cinema of the 1920s. Contributors: Linda Craig, Lalitha Gopalan, Terri Francis, Chris Jones, Mark Joyce, Searle Kochberg, Lawrence Napper, Jill Nelmes, Patrick Phillips, Suzanne Speidel, Paul Ward, Paul Watson, Paul Wells, and William Wittington.

Re-Imagining Animation: The Changing Face of the Moving Image Paul Wells, Johnny Hardstaff, 2008-10-14 What's new in animation? Find out! Works from artists, animators, film makers, scholars, archivists. Ideal for serious students of film making and animation. In this detailed look at animation today, a series of intriguing case studies are explored from production to final outcome. Each one is considered in terms of meaning, purpose, and effect, then put into context as part of today's animation culture. Hundreds of illustrations make it easy to follow experimental work from script to screen, exploring the intersections between animation, film, graphic design, and art. With insights from leading U.K. authors on animation, as well as Oscar-winning animators, artists, film makers, scholars, and archivists, Re-Imagining Animation offers the definitive look at animation today.

An Introduction to Film Studies Jill Nelmes, 2003 An Introduction to Film Studies has established itself as the leading textbook for students of cinema. This revised and updated third edition guides students through the key issues and concepts in film studies and introduces some of the world's key national cinemas, including British, Indian, Soviet, and French. Written by experienced teachers in the field and lavishly illustrated with over 122 film stills and production shots it will be essential reading for any student of film Features of the third edition include full coverage of all the key topics at undergraduate level comprehensive and up to date information and new case studies on recent films such as Gladiator Spiderman The Blair Witch Project Fight Club Shrek and The Matrix annotated key readings further viewing website resources study questions a comprehensive bibliography and indexes and a glossary of key terms will help lecturers prepare tutorials and encourage students to undertake independent study Individual chapters include Film form and narrative Spectator audience and response Critical approaches to Hollywood cinema authorship genre and stars Animation forms and meaning Gender and film Lesbian and gay cinema British cinema Soviet montage Cinema French New Wave Indian Cinema Animated 'Worlds' Suzanne Buchan,2007-02-20 What do we mean by the term animation when we are discussing film Is it a technique A style A way of seeing or experiencing a world that has little relation to our own lived experience of the world In Animated Worlds contributors reveal the astonishing variety of worlds animation confronts us with Essays range from close film analyses to phenomenological and cognitive approaches spectatorship performance literary theory and digital aesthetics Authors include Vivian Sobchack Richard Weihe Thomas Lamarre Paul Wells and Karin Wehn Analysing the Screenplay Jill Nelmes,2010-10-04 Analysing the Screenplay highlights the screenplay as an important form in itself as opposed to merely being the first stage of the production process

Whitley,2008 David Whitley's compelling study complicates our understanding of the classic Disney canon by focusing on the way images of the natural world are mediated within popular art for children He examines a range of Disney's feature animations from Snow White to Finding Nemo to show that even as the films communicate the central ideologies of their times they also express the ambiguities and tensions that underlie these dominant values The Animated Bestiary Paul Wells,2008-11-28 Cartoonists and animators have given animals human characteristics for so long that audiences are now accustomed to seeing Bugs Bunny singing opera and Mickey Mouse walking his dog Pluto The Animated Bestiary critically evaluates the depiction of animals in cartoons and animation more generally Paul Wells argues that artists use animals to engage with issues that would be more difficult to address directly because of political religious or social taboos Consequently and principally through anthropomorphism animation uses animals to play out a performance of gender sex and sexuality racial and national traits and shifting identity often challenging how we think about ourselves Wells draws on a wide range of examples from the original King Kong to Nick Park's Chicken Run to Disney cartoons such as Tarzan The Jungle Book and Brother Bear to reflect on people by looking at the ways in which they respond to animals in cartoons and films

Race and the Animated Bodyscape Francis M. Agnoli, 2023-04-21 Race does not exist in animation it must instead be constructed and ascribed Yet over the past few years there has been growing discourse on the intersection of these two subjects within both academic and popular circles In Race and the Animated Bodyscape: Constructing and Ascribing a Racialized Asian Identity in Avatar and Korra author Francis M Agnoli introduces and illustrates the concept of the animated bodyscape looking specifically at the US television series Avatar: The Last Airbender and its sequel The Legend of Korra Rather than consider animated figures as unified wholes Agnoli views them as complexes of signs made up of visual aural and narrative components that complement contradict and otherwise interact with each other in the creation of meaning Every one of these components matters as they are each the result of a series of creative decisions made by various personnel across different production processes This volume re-constructs production narratives for Avatar and Korra using original and preexisting interviews with cast and crew members as well as behind the scenes material Each chapter addresses how different types of components were generated tracing their development from preliminary research to final animation In doing so this project identifies the interlocking sets of production communities behind the making of animation and thus behind the making of racialized identities Due to its illusory and constructed nature animation affords untapped opportunities to approach the topic of race in media looking beyond the role of the actor and taking into account the various factors and processes behind the production of racialized performances The analysis of race and animation calls for a holistic approach one that treats both the visual and the aural as intimately connected This volume offers a blueprint for how to approach the analysis of race and animation
