Land and Water Management in Southern Africa Calvin Nhira, Alfred Mapiki, Sello Patrick Rankhumise, 2008 The Southern African Development Community SADC and its Member States are making renewed efforts to revive agriculture in the region Given that much of it is water stressed appropriate and sustainable land and water management practices are vital to achieving this objective Recognising this SADC's Land and Water Management Applied Research and Training Programme has convened two scientific symposiums Held in Lilongwe Malawi in February 2006 the inaugural symposium brought together practitioners from 10 participating SADC countries to deliberate on land and water management for sustainable agriculture and discuss how the most recent research and development advances in land and water management might be made more relevant to policymakers as well as the region's small scale farmers The edited contributions to this first symposium appear in this volume The second symposium was held in Gaborone Botswana in February 2007 and brought together regional experts to discuss opportunities for improving water use and water use efficiency in agriculture in semi arid and arid areas The edited contributions to the second symposium appear in a companion volume entitled Land and Water Management in Southern Africa Towards Better Water Use in Agriculture in Semi Arid and Arid Areas AISA 2008 It is hoped that these two volumes will help to disseminate regional expertise on land and water management to a wider audience thus helping policy makers and others to strengthen the agricultural sector in the region and in so doing improve its food security and the wellbeing of its people

The implementation of the Southern African Development Community (SADC) Protocol on Trade Stefan Ulrich Hegner, 1998-07-13 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The SADC Protocol on Trade lays the foundation for the planned free trade area in the SADC region Its ratification is expected in the near future and therefore the question arises in how far the creation of the free trade area will affect the patterns of intraregional trade After an examination of the framework of preferential and free trade agreements in the region this study employs a customised methodology based on Viner's theory of customs unions in order to identify those areas of trade that will be affected by trade creation or trade diversion effects I have examined the trade creation and trade diversion potential of the most relevant goods for each of the twelve SADC countries resolved to a 2 digit HS code level These results were then put into relation to the overall macroeconomic situation in each country There were a number of data problems that make the findings of this study less meaningful However to some extent this report can be seen as a best possible approximation and as a starting point for further and more detailed research The overall findings can be summed up as follows South Africa is not going to be the only winner from the free trade area and especially its textile and clothing sector might suffer as a result There are virtually no trade creation and trade diversion effects to be expected for the BLNS countries but there is a good possibility of additional exports Therefore they are likely to profit the most Angola and Mozambique will probably experience the strongest trade creation and trade diversion effects This will be triggered mainly by free trade with South Africa and the fact that their industrial base is very weak and has just started recovering Zusammenfassung Das SADC Handelsprotokoll ist die Grundlage f r die geplante Freihandelszone in der SADC Region und wird voraussichtlich in K rze ratifiziert Es stellt sich daher die Frage inwieweit sich die Schaffung dieser Freihandelszone auf den Handel innerhalb der Region auswirken wird Nach einer Untersuchung der Handelsabkommen innerhalb der Region wird eine Methodik verwendet die auf Viners Theorie der Zollunionen basiert um jene Bereiche des regionalen Handels zu identifizieren die von handelsschaffenden und handelsumlenkenden Effekten betroffen werden Ich habe das Potential f r handelsschaffende und handelsumlenkende Effekte der wichtigsten G ter aufgeschl sst nach zweistelligen HS Codes f r alle

Working wetlands: classifying wetland potential for agriculture McCartney, M. P., Masiyandima, M., Houghton-Carr, H. A.,2005 This paper reports on a form of multi criteria analysis that provides a formal approach for evaluating the suitability of a wetland for specific agricultural uses and ensures that explicit consideration is given to the possible consequences of such utilization The method is based on a hybrid of ideas taken from concepts and methodologies related to environmental flow assessments land suitability classification and the hazard evaluation procedures used in the design of dams The approach which elaborates the idea of working wetlands is generic though the examples presented are for case studies from southern Africa

This linkage was deliberate given that there is still time remaining until 2030 and the world has generally agreed to move into the future along the pathways of sustainable development and sustainability. The book adds to the first comprehensive profiling of the impacts of tropical cyclones on southern African economies, particularly that of Zimbabwe. It also comes up as the first in a three-volume series. The other volumes to look out for are Cyclones in Southern Africa Vol 2: Foundational and Fundamental Topics and Cyclones in Southern Africa Vol 3: Implications for the Sustainable Development Goals. To this end, this book is suitable as a read for several professionals and disciplines such as tourism and hospitality studies, economics, sustainable development, development studies, environmental sciences, arts, geography, life sciences, politics, planning, and public health.

An assessment of small-scale users' inclusion in large-scale water user associations of South Africa Faysse, Nicolas, 2004. The management of water resources is being transformed in South Africa. All water users, especially the small-scale ones, are now invited to participate in this movement. This report reviews the process of inclusion of small-scale users in the new large-scale Water User Associations (WUA). Considering the difficulties encountered in this process, this report also recommends external monitoring after the transformation of an Irrigation Board into a WUA. This method may also facilitate assessment of the inclusion of small-scale users into catchment management agencies and water resource management organizations.
