Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa Hanne Kirstine Adriansen, Lene Møller Madsen, Stig Jensen, 2015-11-06 Higher education has recently been recognized as a key driver for societal growth in the Global South and capacity building of African universities is now widely included in donor policies The question is how do capacity building projects affect African universities researchers and students Universities and their scientific knowledges are often seen to have universal qualities therefore capacity building may appear straight forward Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa contests such universalistic notions Inspired by ideas about the geography of scientific knowledge it explores what role specific places and relationships have in knowledge production and analyses how cultural experiences are included and excluded in teaching and research Thus the different chapters show how what constitutes legitimate scientific knowledge is negotiated and contested In doing so the chapters draw on discussions about the hegemony of Western thought in education and knowledge production The authors own experiences with higher education capacity building and knowledge production are discussed and used to contribute to the reflexive turn and rise of auto ethnography This book is a valuable resource for researchers and postgraduate students in education development studies African studies and human geography as well as anthropology and history Antarcticness Ilan Kelman, 2022-02-08 Antarcticness joins disciplines communication approaches and ideas to explore meanings and depictions of Antarctica Personal and professional words in poetry and prose plus images present and represent Antarctica as presumed and as imagined alongside what is experienced around the continent and by those watching from afar These understandings explain how the Antarctic is viewed and managed while identifying aspects which should be more prominent in policy and practice The authors and artists place Antarctica and the perceptions and knowledge through Antarcticness within inspirations and imaginations without losing sight of the multiple interests pushing the continent's governance as it goes through rapid political and environmental changes Given the diversity and disparity of the influences and changes the book's contributions connect to provide a more coherent and encompassing perspective of how society views Antarctica scientifically and artistically and what the continent provides and could provide politically culturally and environmentally Offering original research art and interpretations of different experiences and explorations of Antarctica explanations meld with narratives while academic analyses overlap with first hand experiences of what Antarctica does and does not could and could not bring to the world Spectral Geometry of Graphs Pavel Kurasov, 2023-11-07 This open access book gives a systematic introduction into the spectral theory of differential operators on metric graphs Main focus is on the fundamental relations between the spectrum and the geometry of the underlying graph The book has two central themes the trace formula and inverse problems The trace formula is relating the spectrum to the set of periodic orbits and is comparable to the celebrated Selberg and Chazarain Duistermaat Guillemin Melrose trace formulas Unexpectedly this formula allows one to construct non trivial crystalline measures and Fourier quasicrystals solving one of the long standing problems in Fourier analysis The remarkable story of this mathematical odyssey is presented in the first part of the book To solve the inverse problem for Schrödinger operators on metric graphs the magnetic boundary control method is introduced Spectral data depending on the magnetic flux allow one to solve the inverse problem in full generality this means to reconstruct not only the potential on a given graph but also the underlying graph itself and the vertex conditions The book provides an excellent example of recent studies where the interplay between different fields like operator theory algebraic geometry and number theory leads to unexpected and sound mathematical results The book is thought as a graduate course book where every chapter is suitable for a separate lecture and includes problems for home studies Numerous illuminating examples make it easier to understand new concepts and develop the necessary intuition for further studies Helping Scientists to Communicate Well for All Considered: Strategic Science Communication in an Age of Environmental and Health Crises Scott McWilliams, Marcia Allison, Marina Joubert, Ingrid Lofgren, Brianne Suldoovsky, 2022-09-16 Development of Higher Education in Africa Alexander W. Wiseman, C. C. Wolhuter, 2013-10-21 This volume of the International Perspectives on Education and Society series investigates the challenges and prospects for higher education in Africa especially issues of development expansion internationalization equity and divergence Digital Kenya Bitange
