curriculum designers policymakers administrators instructional designers researchers and students      Study Guide for CTET Paper 1 (Class 1 - 5 teachers) with Past Questions 5th Edition 9789387045941,2020-05-01      The Multilingual City Lid King,Lorna Carson,2016-01-26 This book is an exploration of the vitality of multilingualism and of its critical importance in and for contemporary cities It examines how the city has emerged as a key driver of the multilingual future a concentration of different changing cultures which somehow manage to create a new identity The book uses the recent LUCIDE multilingual city reports as a basis for discussion and analysis and deals with both societal and individual multilingualism in a way that draws on the full range of their historical contemporary visual audible psychological educational and policy oriented aspects The book will be of interest to students and researchers of multilingualism migration studies European Studies anthropology sociology and urbanism      World Yearbook of Education 2017 Julie Allan,Alfredo J. Artiles,2016-12-01 This latest volume in the World Yearbook of Education series examines the relationship between assessment systems and efforts to advance equity in education at a time of growing inequalities It focuses on the political motives behind the expansion of an assessment industry the associated expansion of an SEN industry and a growth in consequential accountability systems Split into three key sections the first part is concerned with the assessment industry and considers the purpose and function of assessment in policy and politics and the political context in which particular assessment practices have emerged Part II of the book on assessing deviance explores those assessment and identification practices that seek to classify different categories of learners including children with Limited English Proficiency with special needs and disabilities and with behavioural problems The final part of the book considers the consequences of assessment and the possibility of fairer and more equitable alternatives examining the production of inequalities within assessment in relation to race class gender and disability Discussing in detail the complex historical intersections of assessment and educational equity with particular attention to the implications for marginalised populations of students and their families this volume seeks to provide reframings and reconceptualisations of assessment and identification by offering new insights into economic and cultural trends influencing them Co edited by two internationally renowned scholars Julie Allan and Alfredo J Artiles World Yearbook of Education 2017 will be a valuable resource for researchers graduates and policy makers who are interested in the economic trends of global education assessment      Fertility, Education and Macroeconomics: The Case of Japan Masatoshi Jinno,Masaya Yasuoka,2025-10-25 This book is intended for those who wish to learn about research methodologies using the endogenous fertility model from the basics The first half of the book provides comprehensive explanations of how to construct the endogenous fertility model including detailed mathematical formulations often omitted from existing literature so that beginner students can fully understand the contents of the book The latter part of the book presents research papers that build on the theoretical foundations established in the first half In this way we set up a theoretical model using the fertility endogenization model and aim to provide a comprehensive reference for researchers and graduate students who wish to conduct rigorous analytical analysis Empirical analysis has become increasingly central to recent research in this field In order to avoid empirical analysis without theory the book is also designed as a valuable guide for establishing robust theoretical foundations in empirical studies Thus we have tried to make this book useful not only for theoretical analysis but also for those who conduct empirical analysis In addition we believe the book's content will remain relevant over time another distinguishing feature

Language Across the Curriculum & CLIL in English as an Additional Language (EAL) Contexts Angel M.Y. Lin, 2016-09-15 This book will be of interest to a broad readership regardless of whether they have a background in sociolinguistics functional linguistics or genre theories It presents an accessible meta language i.e. a language for talking about language that is workable and usable for teachers and researchers from both language and content backgrounds thus facilitating collaboration across content and language subject panels Chapters 1 to 3 lay the theoretical foundation of this common meta language by critically reviewing systematically presenting and integrating key theoretical resources for teachers and researchers in this field In turn Chapters 4 to 7 focus on issues in pedagogy and assessment and on school based approaches to LAC and CLIL drawing on both research studies and the experiences of front line teachers and school administrators Chapter 8 provides a critical and reflexive angle on the field by asking difficult questions regarding how LAC and CLIL are often situated in contexts characterized by inequality of access to the linguistic and cultural capitals where the local languages of the students are usually neglected or viewed unfavourably in relation to the L2 in mainstream society and where teachers are usually positioned as recipients of knowledge rather than makers of knowledge In closing Chapter 9 reviews the state of the art in the field and proposes directions for future inquiry

Interdisciplinary Approaches to Multilingualism Suzanne Curtin, Mary Grantham O'Brien, Rahat Naqvi, 2015-07-16 This research topic stems from the Interdisciplinary Approaches to Multilingualism conference which was hosted by the Language Research Centre at the University of Calgary It was the first conference of its kind which brought together the work of researchers educators and policy makers in the areas of first and second language acquisition from psycholinguistic and pedagogical perspectives The goal was to provide an opportunity for participants to engage with the implications of multilingualism from a range of perspectives including the effects of being bilingual from infancy to adulthood the process and benefits of learning multiple languages and the impact of multilingualism on society

International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz, Vitor Geraldi Haase, Pekka Räsänen, 2019-01-30 This comprehensive volume provides teachers researchers and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational behavioural and neurosciences integrating cognitive developmental and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades but the most part of this research has been conducted in non applied settings and there is still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings. Now it is time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom. Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings, the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments. It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues. And it does so from an international perspective, dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world. All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society.
