Migration, Agriculture and Rural Development Michele Nori, Domenica Farinella, 2020-05-26 This open access short reader looks into the dynamics which have reshaped rural development and human landscapes in European agriculture and the role of immigrant people Within this framework it analyses contemporary rural migrations and the emergence of immigrants in relation to the incorporation of agrarian systems into global markets the European agricultural governance CAP and the struggle of local territories as differentiated practices in constant stress between innovation and resilience It specifically explores the case of immigrant shepherds to describe the reconfiguration of agriculture systems and rural landscapes in Europe following intense immigration and the related provision of skilled labour at a relatively low cost Being written in a very accessible way this reader is an interesting read to students researchers academics policy makers and practitioners

Sustainability Thomas Pfister, Martin Schweighofer, André Reichel, 2016-05-26 Sustainability as a reference frame for dealing with the interconnection of environmental economic and social issues on a global scale is not only characterized by complex problems and long term strategies but also by differences and disagreements with regard to its meanings and how they should be realised Therefore Rather than seeking a single most appropriate definition of Sustainability the main focus of this book is on how specific Sustainability problems are defined by whom and in which contexts what solutions are pursued to tackle them and which effects they have in practice This account of the social nature of Sustainability is intended to assist its readers to better understand the complexities dynamism and ambivalence of this concept as well as to find their own position in relation to it For this purpose the book traces the historical development of the larger discourse on Sustainability and investigates responses to three grand Sustainability challenges climate change energy and agricultural food production It suggests that promoting Sustainability requires continuous and active care and is inseparable from political debate about the normative foundations of society

Inclusive Innovation Rajeswari S. Raina,Keshab Das,2020-02-27 This book discusses the role of inclusive innovation for development in rural India It uses the evidence of innovation in the context of skewed or limited livelihood options and multiple knowledge systems to argue that if inclusive innovation is to happen the actors and the nature of the innovation system need reform The book presents cases of substantive technological changes and institutional reforms enabling inclusive innovation in rural manufacturing sustainable agriculture health services and the processes of technological learning in traditional informal networks as well as in formal modern commodity markets These cases offer lessons to enable learning and change within the state and formal science and technology S T organizations By focusing on these actors central to development economics and innovation systems framework the book bridges the widening conceptual gaps between these two parallel knowledge domains and offers options for action by several actors to enable inclusive innovation systems The content is thus of value to a wide audience consisting of researchers policy makers NGOs and industry observers

The Indian Journal of Agricultural Sciences ,2017 Land, the State and the Unfinished Decolonisation Project in Africa Chitonge, Horman,Mine, Yoichi,2019-06-25 This book focuses on the work of one of the leading African scholars on the land question and agrarian transformation in Africa Sam Moyo It offers a critical discussion in conversation with Sam Moyo of the land question and the response of African states Since independence African states have been trying to address the colonial legacy on land policy and governance After six decades of formulating and implementing land reforms most countries have not succeeded in decolonising approaches to land policy and the administrative framework. The book brings together the broader debates on the implications of decolonisation of Africa's land policy. Through case studies from several African countries the book offers an empirical analysis on land reforms and the emerging land relations and how these affect land allocation and use including agricultural production. Most of the chapters discuss how the unresolved land question in post colonial Africa impacts on agricultural production and rural development broadly. The failure to decolonise colonial land policy and the imported tenure systems has left post colonial African states dancing to two tunes resulting in schizophrenic land and agrarian policies. The book demonstrates that the failure by African states to reconcile imported and indigenous land tenure systems and practices is evident in the deliberate denigration of customary tenure. It is also evident in the rising land inequality and the neglect of the agricultural sector the small scale and subsistence sub sectors in particular.
