A Pluralist's Guide to Solving Molyneux's Problem Brian Glenney, 2024-12-31 This book presents a novel pluralist strategy for answering Molyneux's 300 year old conundrum: Would a person born blind but given sight identify a shape previously known only by their touch? The author interweaves historical scholarship with contemporary philosophical work and empirical research on animal infant and adult human perception. The author argues that we need a new approach to Molyneux's problem because we do not know what the problem is really about and it is untestable because a Molyneux subject cannot be physically realized. He criticizes Molyneux's question for its simplistic taxonomy of the blind that groups significant individual differences into a singular ontology. Research in the cognitive sciences confirms that various kinds of blindness can co-occur, such as ocular, cortical, and psychological blindness. Therefore, the author adopts an explanatory pluralism for answering Molyneux's problem, which includes no yes and no answer answers according to the domain of inquiry being used. This account provides a research-based answer to a long-standing problem using previously unheeded insights, particularly from animal crossmodal perception studies, to retell a more complex story of perception, its levels of explanation, and integration. A Pluralist's Guide to Solving Molyneux's Problem will be of interest to researchers and advanced students working in comparative psychology, epistemology, history of philosophy, philosophy of perception.

Handbook on Animal-Assisted Therapy Aubrey H. Fine, 2015-05-12 In the 15 years since the first edition of Handbook on Animal-Assisted Therapy published, the field has changed considerably. The fourth edition of the Handbook highlights advances in the field with 11 new chapters and over 40% new material. In reading this book, therapists will discover the benefits of incorporating animal-assisted therapy (AAT) into their practices, best practices in animal-assisted intervention, how to design and implement animal-assisted interventions, and the efficacy of AAT with different disorders and patient populations. Coverage includes the use of AAT with children, the elderly, those receiving palliative care, as well as people with chronic disorders, AIDS, trauma, and autistic spectrum disorders. Additional chapters cover techniques for working with families in juvenile and criminal justice systems and in colleges and universities. Summarizes efficacy research on AAT. Identifies how to design and implement animal-assisted interventions. Provides methods, standards, and guidelines for AAT. Discusses AAT for children, the elderly, and special populations. Describes AAT use in different settings. Includes 11 new chapters and 40% new material.

Zoopolis Sue Donaldson, Will Kymlicka, 2011-11-25 Zoopolis offers a new agenda for the theory and practice of animal rights. Most animal rights theory focuses on the intrinsic capacities or interests of animals and the moral status and moral rights that these intrinsic characteristics give rise to. Zoopolis shifts the debate from the realm of moral theory and applied ethics to the realm of political theory, focusing on the relational obligations that arise from the varied ways that animals relate to human societies and institutions Building on recent developments in the political theory of group differentiated citizenship Zoopolis introduces us to the genuine political animal It argues that different types of animals stand in different relationships to human political communities Domesticated animals should be seen as full members of human animal mixed communities participating in the cooperative project of shared citizenship Wilderness animals by contrast form their own sovereign communities entitled to protection against colonization invasion domination and other threats to self determination Liminal animals who are wild but live in the midst of human settlement such as crows or raccoons should be seen as denizens resident of our societies but not fully included in rights and responsibilities of citizenship To all of these animals we owe respect for their basic inviolable rights But we inevitably and appropriately have very different relations with them with different types of obligations Humans and animals are inextricably bound in a complex web of relationships and Zoopolis offers an original and profoundly affirmative vision of how to ground this complex web of relations on principles of justice and compassion
