Fikret Berkes,2015-02-11 Issues of sustainability and increased competition over coastal resources are changing practices of resource management Societal concerns about environmental degradation and loss of coastal resources have steadily increased while other issues like food security biodiversity and climate change have emerged A full set of social ecological and economic objectives to address these issues are recognized but there is no agreement on how to implement them This interdisciplinary and big picture book through a series of vivid case studies from environments throughout the world suggests how to achieve these new resource management principles in practical accessible ways Rethinking Literary Naturalism Ian James,2025-04-16 This book gives original readings of Proust and Quignard to elaborate a novel theory of literary naturalism Drawing on contemporary biological perspectives the book argues that despite their opposition to traditional naturalism both understand human experience meaning making and creativity as being immanent to and as emerging from shared biological life Rethinking Literary Naturalism reads contemporary biosemiotic theory Proust and Quignard alongside each other in the context of a shared genealogy that leads back into nineteenth century philosophical and literary visions of natural life that are inherited from German Romanticism and Idealism Here biological theory and forms of literary practice are recast as distinct techniques of thought that aim to situate themselves in relation to biological life Each in its own way is shown to adopt an interpretative posture that steps back into the immanence of sense and meaning that is constitutive of qualitatively lived existence Each produces a different kind of knowledge scientific literary literary philosophical of shared biological life that can be understood as distinctive variations of a saying after life The novel literary naturalism that is rethought here can be understood as post dicative and as being entirely distinct from that of mile Zola Maupassant or the Goncourt brothers Training Readers and Writers for a Multimodal and Multimedia Society: Cognitive Aspects Ester Trigo-Ibanez,Inmaculada Clotilde Santos Diaz,Marcela Jarpa,2024-02-07 Contemporary societies have been advancing gradually towards the construction of a model of a literate population Significant efforts have been made so that most citizens can access various sources today using their reading and writing abilities but are we really prepared to face the information age Is information literacy being promoted from schools Are individual capabilities being considered Do we have a true critical literacy This article collection aims to show an overview of the most recent research ranging from the individual to the collective from the subject s competencies and their beliefs to the way to develop them from school There is room in this Research Topic for investigations belonging to the linguistic psychological and didactic field This Research Topic aims to address a pressing problem in contemporary world societies It is proposed to offer various contributions related to critical literacy in general and reading and writing In this sense research that addresses analog and digital reading writing processes academic literacy and the use of resources such as non fiction illustrated books to develop critical thinking will be welcome But also and in a very important way the cognitive processes of the subject will be considered not only to deal with access to information but also in the construction of their mental lexicon an issue that offers the vision of the world of those who are immersed in literacy and in the post truth era Aristotle on Meaning in the Living World Peter N. Jackson,2025-11-28 This book provides an examination of Aristotle s relevance to modern philosophy and science It presents Aristotle s corpus as a complex and comprehensive picturing of a sublunary world in which meaning is exhibited by and shared between beings ousiai This approach is mirrored in modern philosophy by phenomenology and in modern science by biosemiotics Peter N Jackson argues however that Aristotle overcomes the slippery subjectivism residually found even in these sympathetic modern approaches meaning is not just how living beings perceive the world but is an inherent property of the world itself and the beings it contains From this perspective our vision of the world is itself incomplete and superficial if it does not recognise the ontological structures that give definition to that world or the principle of complementarity through which we can engage with the complex reality of that world By contrast reductionism claims to achieve a complete picture of the world but does so only by conflating philosophy which needs to see the whole with science which needs to focus upon the part and which takes from philosophy only what it needs to do so The price of this claimed completion is profound it is the flattening of being and the annihilation of life itself and the milieu of meaning in which it exists This volume appeals to undergraduate and graduate students as well as researchers and helps us understand the world through science mathematics philosophy and religion without conflating or reducing these perspectives into one The Roots of Equality Lantz Miller,2023-07-31 For centuries thinkers have grappled with the mystery of how humans first formulated the notion of equality The species is quite territorial and according to history has demonstrated a violent streak How could such a creature have developed the peaceful impulse to ensure everyone gets their fair share Some have surmised that equality was a last gasp measure the guarantee of peace to avert self annihilation However a closer examination of the phenomenon across the existence of Homo sapiens illuminates a naturalistic solution to the puzzle Lantz Miller traces the early advancements of our species to argue that rather than concocting equality to forestall self annihilation it was forged through a lived condition of freedom over hundreds of thousands of years Bringing together insights from both philosophy and anthropology The Roots of Equality Anthropological and Normative Sources investigates how our foraging ancestors came to thrive in egalitarian communities without sacrificing autonomy along the way Comprehensive Dissertation Index ,1984 El-Hi Textbooks and Serials in Print ,1986 El-Hi textbooks in print R.
