Fundamentals of Electric Aircraft Pascal Thalin, Ravi Rajamani, Jean-Charles Mare, Sven Taubert, 2018-12-18

Fundamentals of Electric Aircraft was developed to explain what the electric aircraft stands for by offering an objective view of what can be expected from the giant strides in innovative architectures and technologies enabling aircraft electrification. Through tangible case studies a deep insight is provided into this paradigm shift cutting across various aircraft segments from General Aviation to Large Aircraft. Addressing design constraints and timelines foreseen to reach acceptable performance and maturity levels, Fundamentals of Electric Aircraft puts forward a general view of the progress made to date and what to expect in the years to come. Drawing from the expertise of four industry veterans, Pascal Thalin (editor), Ravi Rajamani, Jean Charles Mare and Sven Taubert (contributors), it addresses futuristic approaches but does not depart too far from the operational down-to-earth realities of everyday business. Fundamentals of Electric Aircraft also offers analyses on how performance enhancements and fuel burn savings may bring more value for money as long as new electric technologies deliver on their promises.

Proceedings of the First Symposium on Aviation Maintenance and Management-Volume I

Jinsong Wang, 2014-03-18. Proceedings of the First Symposium on Aviation Maintenance and Management collects selected papers from the conference of ISAMM 2013 in China held in Xi'an on November 25-28, 2013. The book presents state-of-the-art studies on the aviation maintenance test, fault diagnosis and prognosis for the aircraft electronic and electrical systems. The selected works can help promote the development of the maintenance and test technology for the aircraft complex systems. Researchers and engineers in the fields of electrical engineering and aerospace engineering can benefit from the book. Jinsong Wang is a professor at School of Mechanical and Electronic Engineering of Northwestern Polytechnical University, China.

Training and Simulation Shem Malmquist, Dennis A. Vincenzi, Katherine Lemos, Shawn Pruchnicki, 2025-09-16. Developing training and simulation is a complex business. From understanding human performance, design usability and the limitations of training types to considerations with virtual reality (VR) producing realistic scenarios and even helping accident investigations, leaving the practitioner with almost an overwhelming challenge. However, they know that their goal is to cut out developing methods that can train and test the sharp end professional to be ready for any eventuality, whether in the air, a chemical plant or the operating room. Through chapters written by leading experts, this book aims to address the key questions and concerns when developing training and simulation in high-risk industries. This book identifies unexplored challenges and weaknesses in the aviation domain, including ground-based training and flight simulation compared to the real world of in-flight complex aircraft operations, aviation accidents and incidents, airspace and air traffic control, aeronautical communications, air navigation, aircraft automation and pilot certification and testing. These concerns are not just relevant to aviation; however, this book pushes beyond aviation to include other fields including petrochemical and medicine that, while on the surface are different, include some of the same human and organizational challenges It integrates machine challenges with human factors science and includes a view of the corporate influences on training Safety is a consideration in all the challenges and current limitations in training and simulation and the book is written with the intention of improving both training and safety as industries deal with more and more complex advanced technology Underpinned by case studies and real life examples this book will give the reader a thorough overview of the limitations of current training methods but with a view to improving and developing better methods for future training scenarios Opportunities and solutions are presented for current or future research and the application and incorporation of these in day day operations Training and Simulation Processes Challenges and Solutions will appeal to practitioners of human factors training pilots and ground operators engineers involved in systems design safety specialists test evaluators and accident investigators across multiple domains

Plane Crash George Bibel,Robert Hedges,2018-03-14 Cover Half Title Title Copyright Dedication Contents Preface 1 Takeoff 2 Takeoff Never Mind 3 Controlling the Plane 4 Vanished 5 Practice Makes Perfect 6 Turbulence 7 The 168 Ton Glider 8 Approach 9 Landing Epilogue Notes References Index A B C D E F G H I J K L M N P R S T U V W Y Advanced Approach Light System Behrend, Ferdinand,2017-08-25 The constant growth in aviation requires the introduction of new technologies in order to meet the demand for increasing capacity Especially the airport often represents the limiting factor Poor visibility conditions and an insufficiently equipped ground infrastructure regarding navigation facilities can lead to restrictions in maintaining the prevailing traffic flow especially during the approaches The conventional instrument landing system consists of numerous technical components which are causing expenses regarding maintenance and operation Smaller airports are often only partially or not at all equipped with the appropriate ground facilities This can bring air traffic to a total halt during certain visibility conditions New satellite based approach procedures offer the possibility to keep up air traffic even during poor visibility conditions regardless of the ground infrastructure required in the past. These also offer now a barometric guidance or an augmented satellite signal for the vertical flight guidance component. With the use of these approach procedures there is however the possibility of new faults and errors of the vertical flight guidance signal. In a system based on electromagnetic radio waves a fault is angular meaning if the airplane gets nearer to the transmitter on ground the absolute possible failure of the target approach path gets smaller. In a satellite based approach on the other hand it is constant during the whole approach. The result can be a great deviation from the target approach path even just before reaching the runway threshold. Often only after reaching the decision height and the herewith connected visual contact to corresponding ground features these faults can be recognized during poor visibility conditions close to the minima of a precision approach flight. The larger the absolute error to the target approach path the more crucial it gets to initiate a missed approach procedure and therefore preventing a drop out of the relevant obstacle clearance limit. Research has shown that through the currently present visual characteristics of the approach lighting system the actual position cannot be determined sufficiently regarding the runway threshold and the target approach path in order to estimate the decision height correctly. The here presented Advanced Approach Light System is supposed to be an additional visual aid in order to support the cockpit crew in its decisions. Therefore it should amount to improve the awareness of the situation regarding constant vertical faults. The new navigation lighting system has been integrated into a flight simulator and was tested by licensed airline pilots within two test series with varying visibility conditions and decision heights. Next to basic functionality operational usability in existing procedures of practical routines in the cockpit has been evaluated. The results of the test series have demonstrated a significant improvement in identifying vertical faults with the support of the Advanced Approach Light System. The decision to initiate a missed approach was made immediate and prompt and therefore the airplane stayed within the obstacle clearance limit even in a low decision height. In contrast the trial participants without the new system took reluctant and often far too late decisions which lead to a drop out of the obstacle clearance limit. The Advanced Approach Lighting System has significantly improved the situation awareness for pilots in command in recognizing vertical faults when reaching the decision height. The integration in existing work routines and its operative use happened flawlessly and was highly accepted by the trial participants.

Das stetige Wachstum in der Luftfahrt erfordert die Einführung neuer Technologien um der Nachfrage nach steigender Kapazität gerecht zu werden. Insbesondere das System Flughafen stellt hierbei oftmals den limitierenden Faktor dar. Schlechte Sichtbedingungen und die unzureichende bodenseitige Ausrüstung mit Navigationseinrichtungen können für Einschränkungen in der Aufrechterhaltung des bestehenden Verkehrsflusses sorgen, insbesondere bei Landeanflügen. Das konventionelle Instrumentenlandesystem besteht aus einer Vielzahl an technischer Komponenten die hohen Aufwand hinsichtlich Wartung und Betrieb verursachen. Kleine Flughäfen sind oft nur teilweise oder gar nicht mit den entsprechenden BodenkompONENTEN ausgerüstet so dass der Flugbetrieb bei bestimmten Sichtbedingungen vollständig eingestellt werden muss Neue satellitengestützte Anflugverfahren bieten die Möglichkeit den Flugbetrieb auch bei schlechten Sichtbedingungen aufrechtzuerhalten unabhängig von der bisher notwendigen Bodeninfrastruktur Diese bieten mittlerweile ebenso eine auf der barometrischen Höhenmessung oder einem aufgewerteten Satellitensignal basierende vertikale Flugführungskomponente Allerdings besteht mit der Verwendung entsprechender Anflugverfahren auch eine neue mögliche Fehlercharakteristik des vertikalen Flugführungssignals Ist ein Fehler beim auf elektromagnetischen Funkwellen basierenden Instrumentenlandesystem winkelführend, je näher sich das Luftfahrzeug dem Sender am Boden nähert, umso kleiner wird die absolute Ablage zum Sollanflugweg ist dieser bei satellitengestützten Anflügen konstant, bei den gesamten Endanflug Eine große Abweichung vom Sollanflugweg auch kurz vor Erreichen der Landebahnschwelle kann die Folge sein Bei schlechten Sichtbedingungen nahe den Minima eines Präzisionsanfluges kann der Fehler oft erst bei Erreichen der Entscheidungshöhe und dem damit verbundenen visuellen Kontakt zu entsprechenden Bodenmerkmalen erkannt werden Je größer die Ablage zum Sollanflugweg umso entscheidender ist das unverzügliche Einleiten des Fehlanflugs um ein Verlassen der entsprechenden Hindernisfreibereiche zu verhindern Untersuchungen haben gezeigt, dass die aktuell vorhandenen visuellen Merkmale der Anflugbefeuerung nicht ausreichend sein können die tatsächliche Position bezüglich der Landebahnschwelle und des Sollanflugweges bei Erreichen der Entscheidungshöhe einzuschätzen Das hier vorgestellte Advanced Approach Light System soll die Cockpitbesatzung als zusätzliches visuelles Merkmal bei der Entscheidung unterstützen und so zur Verbesserung des Situationsbewusstseins hinsichtlich konstanter vertikaler Fehler beitragen Das neue Befeuerungssystem wurde in einen Flugsimulator integriert und innerhalb zweier Versuchsreihen mit unterschiedlichen Sichtbedingungen und Entscheidungshöhen von lizenzierten Verkehrspiloten getestet Dabei sollte neben der grundsätzlichen Funktionalität auch die operative Einsetzbarkeit in den bestehenden Ablauf der Handlungsrouinen im Cockpit untersucht werden Die Ergebnisse der Versuchsreihen haben eine erhebliche Verbesserung im Erkennen vertikaler Fehler mit Hilfe des Advanced Approach Light System aufgezeigt Die Entscheidung zum Einleiten des Fehlanflugs erfolgte direkt und unverzüglich, wodurch das Luftfahrzeug auch bei sehr niedriger Entscheidungshöhe noch innerhalb des Hindernisfreibereiches blieb Im Gegensatz dazu wurde bei den Versuchsteilnehmern denen nicht das neue System zur Verfügung stand die Entscheidung eher zögerlich und oftmals viel später getroffen was zu einem Verlassen des Hindernisfreibereiches führte Das Situationsbewusstsein der Luftfahrzeugführer zum Erkennen vertikaler Fehler beim Erreichen der Entscheidungshöhe wurde durch das Advanced Approach Light System wesentlich erhöht Die Integration in bestehende Arbeitsrouinen und der operative Einsatz erfolgten bei hoher Akzeptanz problemlos durch die Versuchsteilnehmer
