Section I of this exam contains 50 multiple-choice questions. Fill in only the circles for numbers 1 through 50 on your answer sheet. Pages containing a periodic table and lists containing equations and constants are also printed in this booklet.

Indicate all of your answers to the multiple-choice questions on the answer sheet. No credit will be given for anything written in this exam booklet, but you may use the booklet for notes or scratch work. After you have decided which of the suggested answers is best, completely fill in the corresponding circle on the answer sheet.

Because this section offers only four answer options for each question, do not mark the (E) answer circle for any question. Give only one answer to each question. If you change an answer, be sure that the previous mark is erased completely. Here is a sample question and answer.

Sample Question

Chicago is a
(A) state
(B) city
(C) country
(D) continent

Sample Answer

(A) ● (C) (B) (E)

Use your time effectively, working as quickly as you can without losing accuracy. Do not spend too much time on any one question. Go on to other questions and come back to the ones you have not answered if you have time. It is not expected that everyone will know the answers to all of the multiple-choice questions.

Your total score on Section I is based only on the number of questions answered correctly. Points are not deducted for incorrect answers or unanswered questions.

Uneducated Guesses Howard Wainer, 2011-08-28 What statistical evidence shows us about our misguided educational policies? Uneducated Guesses challenges everything our policymakers thought they knew about education and education reform, from how to close the achievement gap in public schools to admission standards for top universities. In this explosive book, Howard Wainer uses statistical evidence to show why some of the most widely held beliefs in education today and the policies that have resulted are wrong. He shows why colleges that make the SAT optional for applicants end up with underperforming students and inflated national rankings, and why the push to substitute achievement tests for aptitude tests makes no sense. Wainer challenges the thinking behind the enormous rise of advanced placement courses in high schools and demonstrates why assessing teachers based on how well their students perform on tests a central pillar of recent education reforms is woefully misguided He explains why college rankings are often lacking in hard evidence why essay questions on tests disadvantage women why the most grievous errors in education testing are not made by testing organizations and much more No one concerned about seeing our children achieve their full potential can afford to ignore this book With forceful storytelling wry insight and a wealth of real world examples

Uneducated Guesses exposes today's educational policies to the light of empirical evidence and offers solutions for fairer and more viable future policies
