

USING A MANNEQUIN

A questionnaire administered to students, showing, by figure, on a five-point scale, an effect, perceived skill used by artists, authors, designers, architects and artists respectively in shaping the structure.

Two sample t-tests comparing the observed frequency of the study items (correct, correct, guesswork, wrong, wrong) with the expected frequency (50% correct, 50% wrong) were conducted. The results of the t-tests are shown in Table 2. The results of the t-tests indicate that the observed frequency of correct responses was significantly higher than the expected frequency of correct responses ($t = 2.14$, $p = .03$). The results of the t-tests also indicate that the observed frequency of wrong responses was significantly lower than the expected frequency of wrong responses ($t = -2.14$, $p = .03$).
