

Process map for closing the books in accounting

- 1. Complete data entry into the accounting system by gathering and organizing all records and transferring them to the general ledger.
- 2. Reconcile the balances in your accounting system with the balances on your physical documents, such as bank statements and receipts.
- 3. Make adjusting entries for depreciation in your accounting records to reflect the actual usage of your assets.
- 4. Record accrued expenses for unpaid services or goods that have been received but not yet recorded, such as electricity bills.
- 5. Prepare a trial balance to ensure that the total of the debit balances equals the total of the credit balances, a sign that the books are in order.
- 6. Generate financial statements, i.e., income statement and balance sheet for a snapshot of the company's financial position in accounting period.
- 7. Get your general ledger ready for the next accounting period by closing your temporary accounts and posting closing entries.
