

AP[®] STATISTICS
2010 SCORING GUIDELINES (Form B)

Question 1

Intent of Question

The primary goals of this question were to assess students' ability to (1) compare three distributions of a quantitative variable; (2) construct a stemplot; (3) recognize that different graphical displays of the same data can reveal different characteristics of a distribution.

Solution

Part (a):

Comparing the medians reveals that the concentration of aldrin tends to be highest for River X and lowest for River Z. About 50 percent of the concentrations of aldrin for Rivers X and Y are higher than all of the concentrations for River Z. River X also displays the most variability in aldrin concentrations, as seen by the largest range and largest IQR, and River Z has the least variability, as judged by both IQR and range. The shapes of the three distributions differ, in that the distribution appears to be skewed to the right for River X, roughly symmetric for River Y and slightly skewed to the left for River Z.

Part (b):

Aldrin concentrations (in ppm) for River X
Leaf unit = 0.1 (for example, 3 | 4 represents 3.4 ppm)

3		47
4		0236678
5		13356
6
7		35
8		0267

Part (c):

The stemplot shows a gap in the distribution of aldrin concentrations for River X between the values of 5.6 and 7.3 ppm of aldrin. This gap is not apparent in the boxplot.

Scoring

Parts (a), (b) and (c) are each scored as essentially correct (E), partially correct (P) or incorrect (I).

Part (a) is scored as follows:

Essentially correct (E) if the response correctly describes, in context, the center, spread and shape (all three characteristics) of the three distributions AND makes a comparative statement involving all three distributions for at least one characteristic. Specific numerical values are not required.
