Nepal is the 2nd richest country in water resource in the world, possessing about 2.27% of the world water resource (CBS 1999). Despite this fact planned water supply was stated only in the fourth plan (1970-1975). The national coverage of water supply system was only about 4% in 1970. A separate institution, the Department of Drinking Water Supply and Sewerage (DWSS) was established during that period. By the end of water supply and sanitation decade (1990), the coverage substantially increased to 36% of the total population, with the rural population and urban population at 33% and 67% respectively. The recent Between Census Households Information, Monitoring and Evaluation System (BCHIMES) report-2000 indicates water coverage at 78% for rural and 92.3% for the urban population (Shrestha, 2003).

Sanitation facility is very poor condition having only 29% national coverage and issue on water quality has not been given proper attention (Shrestha et.al, 2203). Rural communities continue to use the most convenient source of water irrespective of quality. Regular outbreaks of water borne epidemics and increasing number of patients being admitted to hospitals due to water related diseases indicates that only supplying of drinking water is not sufficient to improve public health status unless continued effort is made both on water supply and sanitation.

Nepal water resources are considerable with surface run-off in the order of 200 km³ annually. In general, there is very little rainfall from November to January. In addition to surface water, Nepal's ground water resources are also extensive.

In Nepal, the guideline value for national drinking water quality standard has been suggested by Pyakural (1994) and Task Force (1995)

A Rhetorical Analysis of the Five Paragraph Essay Juluis Nang Kum, 2023-01-25 This groundbreaking secondary school textbook analyses the rhetorical nature of the Five Paragraph Essay and the structure of examination essay questions. It provides students with an insightful and a comprehensive picture of the five paragraph essay. The book is divided into six chapters. Chapter one focuses on the origin of the genre of essay and chapter two gives a description of the five paragraph essay. The remaining chapters analyse the introduction section, the body section, the conclusion section, and essay questions of the five paragraph essay and beyond. The book would be appropriate as a training tool for the writing skills of many students. We hope that many secondary school students would find the book very vital for their essay writing exercises and other related fields.

Analysis of Samples of Clinical and Alimentary Interest with Paper-based Devices Emilia Witkowska Nery, 2016-08-12 This book presents two main sets of paper based analytical systems. The first set is a platform for the analysis of glucose, cholesterol, and uric acid in biological samples, and the second set is a cutting edge electronic tongue system for the analysis of beverages, mineral water, beer, wine. This thesis also provides an extensive review of 33 methods of enzyme immobilization on paper which have been evaluated to enhance the storage stability of the proposed system for biomarker detection. From a practical perspective, this thesis covers a diverse set of topics related to paper based sensing, including colorimetric and electrochemical detection methods, different sets of architecture, spot tests, lateral and tangential flow assays, methods of fabrication, wax printing, cutting, impregnation with polymers, measurements in stationary and flow conditions, as well as computer modeling of proposed systems and sophisticated data analysis using chemometric techniques. This book is useful for PhD students working in this or a related field who require detailed information about methodology and background to this research.
