Tracking the Franklin Expedition of 1845 Stephen Zorn, 2023-08-25 The Franklin Northwest Passage Expedition of 1845 is perhaps the greatest disaster in the history of exploration all 129 men vanished as did the expedition s two ships HMS Erebus and Terror Over the next 150 years searchers found bones clothing and a variety of relics Inuit narratives provided some of the details of what happened to the frozen starving sailors after they deserted their ice locked ships in 1848 Then in 2014 and 2016 Canadian researchers found the sunken wrecks not far from the bleak windswept King William Island in the Arctic At last the mystery of the Franklin Expedition would be solved Or would it This book pulls together the various searchers discoveries the many recent scientific studies that shed light on when how and why the men died and whether in extremis they ate each other and illuminates what we know and what we don t and may never know about the fate of the expedition

Americans in Egypt, 1770-1915 Cassandra Vivian, 2012-08-16 The voices of Americans have long been absent from studies of modern Egypt Most scholars assume that Americans were either not in Egypt in significant numbers during the nineteenth century or had little of importance to say This volume shows that neither was the case by introducing and relating the experiences and attitudes of 15 American personalities who worked lived or traveled in Egypt from the 1770s to the commencement of World War I Often in their own words explorers consuls tourists soldiers missionaries artists scientists and scholars offer a rare American perspective on everyday Egyptian life and provide a new perspective on many historically significant events The stories of these individuals and their sojourns not only recount the culture and history of Egypt but also convey the domination of the country by European powers and the support for Egypt by a young American nation

Science John Michels (Journalist),1961-07 Since Jan 1901 the official proceedings and most of the papers of the American Association for the Advancement of Science have been included in Science Designing Search Greg Nudelman,2011-05-09 Best practices practical advice and design ideas for successful ecommerce search A glaring gap has existed in the market for a resource that offers a comprehensive actionable design patterns and design strategies for ecommerce search but no longer With this invaluable book user experience designer and user researcher Greg Nudelman shares his years of experience working on popular ecommerce sites as he tackles even the most difficult ecommerce search design problems Nudelman helps you create highly effective and intuitive ecommerce search design solutions and he takes a unique forward thinking look at trends such as integrating searching with browsing to create a single finding user interface Offers much needed insight on how to create ecommerce search experiences that truly benefit online shoppers Juxtaposes examples of common design pitfalls against examples of highly effective ecommerce search design solutions Presents comprehensive guidance on ecommerce search design strategies for the Web mobile phone applications and new tablet devices Shares the author s years of unique experience working with ecommerce from the perspective of the user s experience Designing ecommerce Search is mandatory reading if you are interested in orchestrating successful ecommerce search strategies Carleton Watkins Tyler Green,2020-10-20 A fascinating and indispensable book Christopher Knight Los Angeles Times Best Books of 2018 The Guardian Gold Medal for Contribution to Publishing 2018 California Book Awards Carleton Watkins 1829 1916 is widely considered the greatest American photographer of the nineteenth century and arguably the most influential artist of his era He is best known for his pictures of Yosemite Valley and the nearby Mariposa Grove of giant sequoias Watkins made his first trip to Yosemite Valley and Mariposa Grove in 1861 just as the Civil War was beginning His photographs of Yosemite were exhibited in New York for the first time in 1862 as news of the Union s disastrous defeat at Fredericksburg was landing in newspapers and while the Matthew Brady Studio s horrific photographs of Antietam were on view Watkins s work tied the West to Northern cultural traditions and played a key role in pledging the once wavering West to Union Motivated by Watkins s pictures Congress would pass legislation signed by Abraham Lincoln that preserved Yosemite as the prototypical national park the first such act of landscape preservation in the world Carleton Watkins Making the West American includes the first history of the birth of the national park concept since pioneering environmental historian Hans Huth's landmark 1948 Yosemite: The Story of an Idea. Watkins's photographs helped shape America's idea of the West and helped make the West a full participant in the nation. His pictures of California, Oregon, and Nevada, as well as modern-day Washington, Utah, and Arizona, not only introduced entire landscapes to America but were important to the development of American business, finance, agriculture, government policy, and science. Watkins's clients, customers, and friends were a veritable who's who of America's Gilded Age, and his connections with notable figures such as Collis P. Huntington, John and Jessie Benton Fremont, Eadweard Muybridge, Frederick Billings, John Muir, Albert Bierstadt, and Asa Gray reveal how the Gilded Age helped make today's America. Drawing on recent scholarship and fresh archival discoveries, Tyler Green reveals how an artist didn't just reflect his time but acted as an agent of influence. This telling of Watkins's story will fascinate anyone interested in American history, the West, and how art and artists impacted the development of American ideas, industry, landscape, conservation, and politics.

Food and the Risk Society Charlotte Fabiansson, Stefan Fabiansson, 2016-05-26 This book offers a comprehensive understanding of the current scientific knowledge concerning risks associated with food preparation, processing, and consumption, with particular attention to the gap between scientific research and public perception. Examining the effects of food on the body from both micro and macro levels, it covers a range of broad themes and current concerns, including obesity and the obesity epidemic, the benefits or otherwise of dietary supplements, caffeine consumption, GM food, alcohol, organic food, the consumption of fruit and vegetables, and pathogens and contaminants. Thematically arranged according to the application of broad theoretical approaches in sociological theory, the socio-cultural perspective, the risk society perspective, and the governmentality perspective, each chapter focuses on a particular area of interest or concern in relation to food, covering the existing literature in detail and offering illustrative empirical examples whilst identifying gaps in knowledge and areas for further research. An accessible and rigorous examination of food and health, and the discrepancy between scientific opinion and consumer perception of safe food, the real risks versus the perceived risks, this book will appeal to scholars and students of sociology, geography, food, nutrition, and environmental ecosystems, as well as health professionals.

Speleology of Montenegro Goran Barovic, 2024-03-07 This book represents a comprehensive overview of the caves and karsts of Montenegro, a small territory yet one of the fascinating areas regarding speleology. In Montenegro, there are more than 1500 karst wonders identified, and a cave with more than 20 km ranks as the longest in the region. In the Maganika massif, Iron Cave also ranks first but because of its length reaching 1100 m. Montenegro's history is also connected to caves as two very popular and visited sanctuaries, monasteries built in the cave Ostrog and Dajbabe. In another speleo-archaeological site, cave Red Rock, 32 layers with a measured age of 180,000 years is highly relevant in Europe.

Megadrought and Collapse Harvey Weiss, 2017-09-01 Megadrought and Collapse is the first book to treat in one volume the current paleoclimatic and archaeological evidence of megadrought events coincident with major prehistoric and historical examples of societal collapse. Previous works have offered multi-causal explanations for collapse from overpopulation overexploitation of resources and warfare to poor leadership and failure to adapt to environmental changes In earlier synthetic studies of major instances of collapse the full force of climate change has often not been considered This volume includes nine case studies that span the globe and stretch over fourteen thousand years from the paleolithic hunter gatherer collapse of the 12th millennium BC to the 15th century AD fall of the Khmer capital at Angkor Together the studies constitute a primary sourcebook in which principal investigators in archaeology and paleoclimatology present their original research Each case study juxtaposes the latest paleoclimatic evidence of megadrought so called for its severity and its decades to centuries long duration with available archaeological records of synchronous societal collapse The megadrought data are derived from all five archival paleoclimate proxy sources speleothems cave stalagmites tree rings and lake marine and glacial cores The archaeological records in each case are the most recently retrieved With Megadrought and Collapse Harvey Weiss and his team of expert contributors have assembled an authoritative investigation that is certain to engage environmental history readers across disciplines in the sciences and social sciences

Straits and Seaways: Controls, Processes and Implications in Modern and Ancient Systems V. M. Rossi,S.G. Longhitano,,C. Olariu,F.L. Montana ,2012 The Evolution of the Human Head Daniel Lieberman,2011-01-03 Exhaustively researched and years in the making this innovative book documents how the many components of the head function how they evolved since we diverged from the apes and how they interact in diverse ways both functionally and developmentally causing them to be highly integrated This integration not only permits the head s many units to accommodate each other as they grow and work but also facilitates evolutionary change Lieberman shows how when and why the major transformations evident in the evolution of the human head occurred The special way the head is integrated Lieberman argues made it possible for a few developmental shifts to have had widespread effects on craniofacial growth yet still permit the head to function exquisitely

The Zoological Record ,1993 Blake ,2011 An illustrated quarterly Globalizing Somalia Emma Leonard,Gilbert Ramsay,2013-11-07 This collection of essays demonstrates how chronic state failure and the inability of the international community to provide a solution to the conflict in Somalia has had transnational repercussions Following the failed humanitarian mission in 1992-93 most countries refrained from any direct involvement in Somalia but this changed in the 2000s with the growth of piracy and links to international terrorist organizations. The deterritorialization of the conflict quickly became apparent as it became transnational in nature. In part because of it lacked a government and was unable to work with the international community, Somalia came to be seen as a testing ground by many international actors. Globalizing Somalia demonstrates how China, Japan and the EU among others have all used the conflict in Somalia to project power, test the bounds of the national constitution and test their own military capabilities. Contributed by international scholars and experts, the work examines the impact of globalization on the internal and external dynamics of the conflict, arguing that it is no longer geographically contained. By bringing together the many actors and issues involved, the book fills a gap in the literature as one of the most complete works on the conflict in Somalia to date. It will be an essential text to any student interested in Somalia and the horn of Africa as well as in terrorism and conflict processes. Backpacker, 2000-03
