evolution of landscape architecture as a discipline Useful chapter summaries and bibliographies Managing the "matchless Wonders" Kiki Leigh Rydell, Mary Shivers Culpin, 2006 Singapore's Park System Master Planning Raffaella Sini, 2019-04-23 This book traces the evolution of Singapore's parks system from colonial to present times Further it contextualizes the design and planning of parks in the general discourse on western and eastern traditions early twentieth century western conceptions imported during colonialism modernism postmodernism and the contemporary ecological debate Park system planning products respond to national policies and result in structural urban elements and a range of park types Global western ideology and local issues have influenced park system planning and the physical design of individual parks over time However in Singapore the eastern literature has not addressed the development of parks and urban green spaces in terms of historical perspective The publication reveals the interrelations between visual representations and changing political ideologies Singapore's system of public parks is shown to represent an iconography created by the state Its set of constructed narratives elucidates on the potential social cultural and environmental roles of public parks However Singapore's park system presents a novel paradigm for expanding Asian cities characterized by evolving urban imaging strategies In framing Singapore's case study within the broader perspective of eastern applications of western planning and design practices and constructions of nation in post colonial countries the manuscript establishes the contribution of the Singaporean model of design and planning of parks to the international debate New Conversations With an Old Landscape Catherin Jane Bull, 2002 This book explores the work of landscape architects in Australia since the 1960s It describes how landscape architects are as contemporary Australians listening more closely to the language of the landscape and how they are designing new landscapes in Housing and Planning References ,1975

Managing Visitor Experiences in Nature-based Tourism Julia N. Albrecht, 2021-03-19 This book focuses on the experiences of tourists visiting nature based destinations exploring current knowledge and providing insights into conceptual issues through the use of empirical evidence from five continents Presented as three topics the contents discuss tourism and naturebased experiences by looking at the role and relevance of nature and the uniqueness of such experiences The book identifies visitor management challenges and provides explanations for the solutions reached The final section takes a more overarching destination management perspective that transcends the tourism product or business level and focuses on destination and generic issues like indicators or marketing implications The book also includes research based case studies which contribute to an overall understanding of the core issues involved in managing visitor experiences in nature based tourism Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1993 Design with Culture Charles A. Birnbaum, Mary V. Hughes, 2005 This anthology written by a number of distinguished scholars breaks new ground in focusing on a major yet generally neglected chapter in the legacy of landscape architectural practice in the United States Equally important the content addresses a long overlooked aspect of the historic preservation movement bringing home the importance of knowing that movement's past in the pursuit of high professional standards today For practitioners and historians alike this is an invaluable book This collection of fresh essays is a valuable contribution to an expanding literature about what must be considered the most complex and contested social product our landscape especially that which is deemed historically significant The sweep from colonial origins to Appalachian farms from scenic wilderness and missions of the West to the nation's capital the little known stories behind the origins of our heritage and conservation organizations and many of our first and most meaningful parks will be of interest to laymen students and professionals alike Annual Report of the Board of Commissioners Boston (Mass.). Department of Parks, Boston (Mass.). Park Department, 1882
