analytical study of John Holt's philosophy of education. It provides a clear analysis and critical evaluation of the key themes in his work, considers the main objections to his views, and discusses their relation to the contemporary homeschooling movement. The book examines Holt's critique of compulsory education and his account of the relationships between learning, freedom, intelligence, and character. It argues that Holt's works contain a philosophically rich critique of instrumentalism in education and thus continue to represent a significant challenge to many mainstream views on education today. Given its scope, the book will be of interest to anyone who wants to understand Holt's work and influence as a critic of compulsory schooling, educators, and education students, philosophers of education, and those seeking a better grasp of the ideas behind unschooling and homeschooling.

Children's Books in Print, 2007, 2006 Nancy Holt
Alena J. Williams, Pamela M. Lee, 2015-07-21. Newly available in paperback, this landmark volume is the definitive study of the work of visionary American artist Nancy Holt, 1938-2014. Since the late 1960s, Holt's wide-ranging production has included land art, particularly the monumental Sun Tunnels (1973-76), as well as significant projects in sculpture, installation, photography, film, and video. A comprehensive representation of Holt's working process in both word and image, Alena J. Williams's momentous publication illuminates the artist's interest in physical space and reveals how the geographic variety and boundlessness of the American landscape afforded her numerous opportunities to develop large-scale projects beyond the confines of New York City's gallery walls. Contributions by a distinguished group of writers, including Pamela M. Lee, Lucy R. Lippard, Ines Schaber, and Matthew Coolidge, chart Holt's fascinating trajectory from her initial experiments with sound, light, and industrial materials to major site interventions and environmental sculpture. James Meyer's valuable interview with Holt and Julia Alderson's illustrated chronology expand our knowledge of this groundbreaking artist and the crucial contexts in which she worked. More than twenty original writings by the artist and a rare selection of her concrete poetry, documentary photographs, and preparatory drawings reveal Holt's revolutionary concepts of space, time, optics, and scale.

Remembering the Past in Contemporary African American Fiction Keith Byerman,2006-05-18 With close readings of more than twenty novels by writers including Ernest Gaines Toni Morrison Charles Johnson Gloria Naylor and John Edgar Wideman Keith Byerman examines the trend among African American novelists of the late twentieth century to write about black history rather than about their own present Employing cultural criticism and trauma theory Byerman frames these works as survivor narratives that rewrite the grand American narrative of individual achievement and the march of democracy The choice to write historical narratives he says must be understood historically These writers earned widespread recognition for their writing in the 1980s a period of African American commercial success as well as the economic decline of the black working class and an increase in black on black crime Byerman contends that a shared experience of suffering joins African American individuals in a group identity and writing about the past serves as an act of resistance against essentialist ideas of black experience shaping the cultural discourse of the present Byerman demonstrates that these novels disrupt the temptation in American society to engage history only to limit its significance or to crown successful individuals while forgetting the victims
