Convergences and Interferences ,2016-09-12 How does one imagine plurality How does one find new strategies for writing diversity and polyphony How does one read the most challenging creative and critical works of the present time This bi lingual volume of twelve English and eight French papers proposes to breach linguistic critical frontiers by placing careful analysis of texts from different language traditions in a multi lingual and multi cultural dialogue In this collection of theoretically and politically aware close readings of contemporary cultural production the focus of analysis rests on the multiple and complex global convergences and interferences of cultural influences The collection foregrounds the work of innovative writers who seek to express the ungraspable presence of cultural newness at the same time as situating themselves in the richness of detail of local lives This volume most particularly finds a balance of critical approach between the everyday attempts at negotiation and survival and the insight brought to the reader by postcolonial syncretic and feminist theoretical analysis Vegetarianism and Veganism in Literature from the Ancients to the Twenty-First Century Theophilus Savvas,2024-05-29 Vegetarianism and Veganism in Literature from the Ancients to the Twenty First Century re assesses both canonical and less well known literary texts to illuminate how vegetarianism and veganism can be understood as literary phenomena as well as dietary and cultural practices It offers a broad historical span ranging from ancient thinkers and writers such as Pythagoras and Ovid to contemporary novelists including Ruth L Ozeki and Jonathan Franzen The expansive historical scope is complemented by a cross cultural focus which emphasises that the philosophy behind these diets has developed through a dialogic relationship between east and west The book demonstrates also the way in which carnivorousism has functioned as an ideology one which has underpinned actions harmful to both human and non human animals Indian Writing in English Mohit Kumar Ray,2003 Out Of Evil Cometh

At Home in the World Maria DiBattista, Deborah Epstein Nord, 2019-06-18 In a bold and sweeping reevaluation of the past two centuries of women's writing At Home in the World argues that this body of work has been defined less by domestic concerns than by an active engagement with the most pressing issues of public life from class and religious divisions slavery warfare and labor unrest to democracy tyranny globalism and the clash of cultures In this new literary history Maria DiBattista and Deborah Epstein Nord contend that even the most seemingly traditional works by British American and other English language women writers redefine the domestic sphere in ways that incorporate the concerns of public life allowing characters and authors alike to forge new emancipatory narratives The book explores works by a wide range of writers including canonical figures such as Jane Austen Charlotte Bront George Eliot Harriet Jacobs Edith Wharton Virginia Woolf Willa Cather Gertrude Stein and Toni Morrison neglected or marginalized writers like Mary Antin Tess Slesinger and Martha Gellhorn and recent and contemporary figures including Nadine Gordimer Anita Desai Edwidge Danticat and Jhumpa Lahiri DiBattista and Nord show how these writers dramatize tensions between home and the wider world through recurrent themes of sailing forth escape exploration dissent and emigration Throughout the book uncovers the undervalued public concerns of women writers who ventured into ever wider geographical cultural and political territories forging new definitions of what it means to create a home in the world The result is an enlightening reinterpretation of women s writing from the early nineteenth century to the present day
