14 Tourism Pat Grade11:

Food, Health and Identity Pat Caplan, 2013-04-15 By addressing the issue of food and eating in Britain today this collection considers the ways in which food habits are changing and shows how social and personal identities and perceptions of health risk influence people's food choices The articles explore among other issues the family meal wedding cakes nostalgia and the invention of tradition the rise of vegetarianism the recent BSE crisis the creolization of British food eating out creation of individual identity through lifestyle The contributors include Hanna Bradby Simon Charsley Allison James Anne Keane Lydia Martens and Alan Warde Tourism Syed Abdul Rehman Khan, Zhang Yu, 2021-10-06 Tourism was booming until 2019 when the COVID 19 pandemic hit Since then tourism and related industries have suffered from negative economic impacts This book examines current challenges and opportunities in the tourism industry using case studies from different parts of the world It also examines the challenges and obstacles faced by the tourism sector due to lack of environmental policies high crime rates and poverty Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 1991 Sport Tourism Heather J. Gibson, 2013-09-13 The study of sport tourism is on the cusp of moving from a descriptive phase of research into an analytical phase Consequently many academics and graduate students are searching for theories upon which to ground their work This book draws upon theories and concepts from sociology and anthropology the socio cultural perspective sport and tourism studies and business studies One of the dangers of a new area of study is that the body of knowledge is built on a range of seemingly unrelated studies By grounding work in a theoretical perspective future work can be linked to and contribute to building a cohesive understanding of various aspects of sport tourism This book is an edited collection written by some of the top scholars working in a particular domain throughout the world providing a compendium of theories and concepts that can be used to frame research on various aspects of sport tourism This volume was previously published as a special issue of the journal Sport in Society Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office United States. Patent and Trademark Office, 1979 Sexual Futures, Queer Gestures, and Other Latina Longings Juana María Rodríguez, 2014-07-25 Winner of the Alan Bray Memorial Book Prize presented by the GL Q Caucus of the Modern Language Association Finalist for the 2015 LGBT Studies Award presented by the Lambda Literary Foundation Sexual Futures Queer Gestures and Other Latina Longings proposes a theory of sexual politics that works in the interstices between radical queer desires and the urgency of transforming public policy between utopian longings and everyday failures Considering the ways in which bodily movement is assigned cultural meaning Juana Mar a Rodr guez takes the stereotypes of the hyperbolically gestural queer Latina femme body as a starting point from which to discuss how gestures and forms of embodiment inform sexual pleasures and practices in the social realm Centered on the sexuality of racialized queer female subjects the book's varied archive which includes burlesque border crossings daddy play pornography sodomy laws and sovereignty claims seeks to bring to the fore alternative sexual practices and machinations that exist outside the sightlines of mainstream cosmopolitan gay male culture. Situating articulations of sexual subjectivity between the interpretive poles of law and performance, Rodríguez argues that forms of agency continually mediate among these various structures of legibility: the rigid confines of the law and the imaginative possibilities of the performative. She reads the strategies of Puerto Rican activists working toward self-determination alongside sexual performances on stage in commercial pornography in multi-media installations on the dance floor and in the bedroom. Rodríguez examines not only how projections of racialized sex erupt onto various discursive mediums but also how the confluence of racial and gendered anxieties seeps into the gestures and utterances of sexual acts, kinship structures, and activist practices. Ultimately, Sexual Futures: Queer Gestures and Other Latina Longings reveals in lyrical style and explicit detail how sex has been deployed in contemporary queer communities in order to radically reconceptualize sexual politics. Zombifying a Nation Toni Pressley-Sanon, 2016-08-02 The figure of the zombie that entered the popular imagination with the publication of William Seabrook's The Magic Island in 1929 during the American occupation of Haiti still holds cultural currency around the world. This book calls for a rethinking of zombies in a sociopolitical context through the examination of several films including White Zombie (1932), The Love Wagon (1935), I Walked with a Zombie (1943), and The Serpent and the Rainbow (1988). A 21st-century film from Haiti, Zombi candidat à la présidence ou les amours d'un zombi, is also examined. A reading of Heading South (2005), a film about the female tourist industry in the Caribbean, explores zombification as a consumptive process driven by capitalism.

Beyond Cannery Row Carol Lynn McKibben, 2010-10-01 Presenting a nuanced story of women, migration, community, industry, and civic life at the turn of the twentieth century, Carol Lynn McKibben's Beyond Cannery Row analyzes the processes of migration and settlement of Sicilian fishers from three villages in Western Sicily to Monterey, California, and sometimes back again. McKibben's analysis of gender and gender roles shows that it was the women in this community who had the insight, the power, and the purpose to respond and even prosper amid changing economic conditions. Vividly evoking the immigrants' everyday experiences through first-person accounts and detailed description, McKibben demonstrates that the cannery work done by Sicilian immigrant women was crucial in terms of the identity formation and community development. These changes allowed their families to survive the challenges of political conflicts over citizenship in World War II and intermarriage with outsiders throughout the migration experience. The women formed voluntary associations and celebrated fiestas that effectively linked them with each other and with their home villages in Sicily. Continuous migration created a strong sense of transnationalism among Sicilians in Monterey, which has enabled them to continue as a viable ethnic community today. Tourist Destinations Douglas G. Pearce, 2020-11-23

Destinations are a central feature of tourism and the focus of much tourism research. Destinations have been studied from diverse perspectives using multiple concepts and a range of approaches. As a result, destination research today has become increasingly fragmented as studies have become more specialized. There is a need for a more integrated approach, one which systematically draws together these different research threads to provide a comprehensive and coherent picture and a fuller understanding of destinations their structure and how they function This book provides such a synthesis by critically reviewing a wide range of international research and incorporating in one volume many different facets of destinations from studies which have appeared in related but often divergent literatures Conceptual and methodological issues are illustrated with empirical examples from Europe North and South America Asia and Oceania Idlewild Ronald J. Stephens, 2013-09-30 An in depth study of an important African American resort town and the intersections among race class tourism entertainment and historic preservation in the United States
