This book is a comprehensive text for those interested in formal education in sub Saharan Africa It provides a thought provoking overview of the key educational ideas themes and issues facing schooling in Africa today by drawing on a wide literature to examine evidence concerning both educational policy and the working realities of primary and secondary schools in Africa Based on the author s forty years of experience in researching and publishing on education in Africa it takes a balanced but critical approach to analysing education in Africa and discusses both positive and negative patterns across the region as well as identifying differences between and within countries The book examines major questions of educational provision structure content and process but does so in a way that raises challenging questions about gender inequality violence authoritarianism and democracy in education as well the fundamental question of whether education is achieving its desired outcomes It will be of great interest to students and researchers working in the fields of comparative and international education education and international development African education African studies and development studies

Psychology and Mathematics Education Gila Hanna, Laura Macchi, Karin Binder, Laura Martignon, Katharina Loibl, 2023-09-05 Modern Mathematics is constructed rigorously through proofs based on truths which are either axioms or previously proven theorems Thus it is par excellence a model of rational inquiry Links between Cognitive Psychology and Mathematics Education have been particularly strong during the last decades Indeed the Enlightenment view of the rational human mind that reasons makes decisions and solves problems based on logic and probabilities was shaken during the second half of the twentieth century Cognitive psychologists discovered that humans thoughts and actions often deviate from rules imposed by strict normative theories of inference Yet these deviations should not be called errors as Cognitive Psychologists have demonstrated these deviations may be either valid heuristics that succeed in the environments in which humans have evolved or biases that are caused by a lack of adaptation to abstract information formats Humans as the cognitive psychologist and economist Herbert Simon claimed do not usually optimize but rather satisfice even when solving problem This Research Topic aims at demonstrating that these insights have had a decisive impact on Mathematics Education We want to stress that we are concerned with the view of bounded rationality that is different from the one espoused by the heuristics and biases program In Simon s bounded rationality and its direct descendant ecological rationality rationality is understood in terms of cognitive success in the world correspondence rather than in terms of conformity to content free norms of coherence e g transitivity Children's Literacy Practices and Preferences Jane Sunderland, Steven Dempster, Joanne Thistlethwaite, 2016-03-31 Over the past few decades there have been intense debates in education surrounding children s literacy achievement and ways to promote reading particularly that of boys The Harry Potter book series has been received enthusiastically by very many children boys and girls alike but has also been constructed in popular and media discourses as a children's particularly a boys literacy saviour Children's Literacy Practices and Preferences: Harry Potter and Beyond provides empirical evidence of young people's reported literacy practices and views on reading and of how they see how the Harry Potter series as having impacted their own literacy. The volume explores and debunks some of the myths surrounding Harry Potter and literacy and contextualizes these within children's wider reading.
