Argument Evaluation and Evidence Douglas Walton, 2015-08-04

This monograph poses a series of key problems of evidential reasoning and argumentation. It then offers solutions achieved by applying recently developed computational models of argumentation made available in artificial intelligence. Each problem is posed in such a way that the solution is easily understood. The book progresses from confronting these problems and offering solutions to them, building a useful general method for evaluating arguments along the way. It provides a hands-on survey explaining to the reader how to use current argumentation methods and concepts that are increasingly being implemented in more precise ways for the application of software tools in computational argumentation systems. It shows how the use of these tools and methods requires a new approach to the concepts of knowledge and explanation suitable for diverse settings such as issues of public safety and health, debate, legal argumentation, forensic evidence, science education, and the use of expert opinion/evidence in personal and public deliberations. Argument in the Research Paper Russ Ward, 1997. Logical Argument in the Research Paper operates on the premise that collegiate level writing when cast in its most significant and sophisticated form is argumentative. Students are shown how writers examine a potential topic, establish a stance upon that topic, defend the stance, avoid reasoning and ethical errors and in general say something meaningful about the topic. It also includes instruction about finding sources, gathering information from them and correctly documenting them. However, the emphasis remains on how effective writers evaluate sources, think about the information they discover, prepare a fair and informed argument, rethink and revise the argument and finally present an argument in its completed form. Logical Argument in the Research Paper will help students learn some of the reasoning processes that all writers use when composing the academic argument. Effective Writing in Psychology

Argumentative Style Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, Sara Greco, Ton van Haaften, Nanon Labrie, Fernando Leal, Peng Wu, 2022-07-15. Argumentative Style discusses the various ways in which the defence of a standpoint is given shape in argumentative discourse. In this innovative study, the new notion argumentative style introduced for this purpose is situated in the theoretical framework of the pragma-dialectical approach to argumentation. This means that the choices involved in utilising a particular argumentative style do not only concern the presentational dimension but also the topical selection and the audience adaptation of the strategic manoeuvring taking place in the discourse. In identifying the functional variety of the argumentative styles utilised in the political, the diplomatic, the legal, the facilitatory, the academic and the medical domain, the point of departure is that these argumentative styles manifest themselves in the discourse in the argumentative moves that are made, the dialectical routes that are chosen and the strategic considerations that are brought to bear.
