Armance English Edition:

Armance Stendhal, 1928 Armance Stendhal, 2017-02-06 Armance is a romance novel set during the Bourbon Restoration by Stendhal published anonymously in 1827. It was Stendhal's first novel though he had published essays and critical works on literature, art, and travel since 1815. The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000. Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more. In the English-speaking cultures, many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett, the Bible to Freud. Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies, there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English. Written by eminent scholars from many countries, the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature. It highlights the place of translation in our culture, encouraging awareness of the issues raised, making the translator more visible. Concentrating on major writers and works, it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean, from Swahili to Russian. For some works, e.g. Virgil's Aeneid, which have been much translated, the discussion is historical and critical, showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions. Elsewhere, with less familiar literatures, the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available. The Guide is divided into two parts. Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions, a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English, and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text, e.g. poetry, oral literature. The second, much longer, part consists of entries grouped by language of origin; some are devoted to individual texts, e.g. The Thousand and One Nights, or writers, e.g. Ibsen, Proust, but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre, e.g. Chinese poetry, Spanish Golden Age drama, or of a national literature, e.g. Hungarian, Scottish Gaelic. There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators. The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975 British Library, Jim Emmett, 1979 Stendhal, a Study of His Novels Frederick William John Hemmings, 1964 Armance Stendhal, 1961. A romance novel set during the Bourbon Restoration. It concerns Octave de Malivert, a taciturn but brilliant young man, barely out of the cole Polytechnique, who is attracted to Armance Zohiloff, who shares his feelings. The novel describes how a series of misunderstandings have kept the lovers Armance and Octave divided. Moreover, a series of clues suggest that Octave is impotent as a result of a severe accident. Octave is experiencing a deep inner turmoil; he himself illustrates the pain of the century's romantics. When the pair do eventually marry, the slanders of a rival convince Octave that Armance had married only out of selfishness. Octave leaves to fight in Greece and dies there of sorrow. The Nation, 1928. Selfhood, Fiction, & Desire in Stendhal's Vie de Henry Brulard & Armance Joan D. Cremin, 1998. This study centers on an evaluation of empirical selfhood, desire, and fiction in two texts by Stendhal, Vie de Henry Brulard and Armance, which amply demonstrate the psychological rupture and linguistic experiments at work in his writing. Specifically in Vie, it examines how the complex disrupting dimension of Stendhal's writing affects his poetics of the sublime his ironic need for selfreinvention and his subversive relationship to established esthetic norms Similarly the theme of desire is explored in Armance within the context of a decadent Romantic novel by creating an erotic subtext which suggests but never names the origin of the hero's secret The close textual analysis sheds new light on Stendhal's skeptical approach to literature Arnold Bennett: the Evening Standard Years Arnold Bennett, 1974 Critical Survey of Literary Theory: Authors, A-Sw Frank Northen Magill, 1987
