Section 10 Travel by Way of Common Carrier

Issued 04/17/17

INTRODUCTION

Common carriers are those conveyances offering their services on a regular basis at published rates to all persons for interstate or intercity transportation. Common carriers include airplanes, trains, buses and the like. The term common carrier does not extend to services involving local transit, such as subways, light rail systems, intra-city buses, etc.

Since the most frequently used common carriers are airplanes, examples and terminology related to the airline industry may frequently be used below. However, the policies set forth below apply to all common carriers, that is to say means of transporting many, unrelated travelers between rather than within metropolitan areas, such as trains (other than light rail) and buses (other than municipal).

POLICIES

1. An employee who is a passenger on a common carrier is:
 - 1.1. In pay status when traveling during his regularly scheduled work days and working hours.
 - 1.2. Not in pay status when traveling during times outside of his regularly scheduled work hours.
2. Except as otherwise specifically allowed, the following expenses are not to be reimbursed:
 - 2.1. Upgraded common carrier fares.
 - 2.2. Common carrier fares related to personal travel.
 - 2.3. Common carrier fares related to commuting.
 - 2.4. Cancellation fees and penalties incurred for personal reasons.
 - 2.5. Charges related to checked baggage containing personal effects in excess of the following:
 - 2.5.1. One (1) piece of luggage for trips of three (3) or fewer days.
 - 2.5.2. Two (2) pieces of luggage for trips of more than three (3) days.
