Beyond Training: The Rise of Adult Education in the Military Jeffrey Zacharakis, Cheryl Polson, 2012-12-17 Widen your view of adult education by learning how it is applied by the nation's largest adult education provider the military Woven through this issue is the common thread of sound adult education practice Addressing applications specific to the military but relevant to civilian providers it highlights the importance of developing the critical thinking and problem solving skills essential for military leaders in an increasingly complex world Chapters also address the intersection of higher education and particular military populations including civilian employees active duty personnel veterans and spouses Finally the sourcebook provides a glimpse into the future of both military education and adult education highlighting the increasing bond between the two and their growing importance in the lifelong education of all Americans This is 136th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education Noted for its depth of coverage it explores issues of common interest to instructors administrators counselors and policymakers in a broad range of settings such as colleges and universities extension programs businesses libraries and museums Army 2020 and Beyond Combined Arms Support Command, 2014-10-23 The strategic environment of 2020 and beyond will look decidedly different from what planners envisioned at the start of this century Changing priorities varying operational environments OE and continuing budget constraints will each shape the United States national security policies The Army will become smaller and leaner yet it will need to maintain the capabilities to respond effectively and decisively to global challenges Such a response requires strengthening inter organizational relationships our unified action partners to include geographic combatant commands functional combatant commands our sister services other governmental and non governmental agencies private industry international governmental organizations and multinational partners The past 10 years have seen unparalleled change during a period of high operational tempo supporting two concurrent operations and a number of domestic and foreign humanitarian assistance disaster relief HA DR missions At no point were operations compromised by a lack of sustainment albeit there were issues to resolve The Army is now at a strategic juncture and must develop a well grounded proposal to guide the design of Sustainment 2020 and beyond that is optimized integrated and synchronized while ensuring that it is affordable relevant and avoids unnecessary redundancy Sustainment must be capable of meeting the needs of the Army in the future Professional Journal of the United States Army, 2013 Beyond the Technological Frontiers of Force XXI, 1996 Signal, 2013 Military Review, 2013 The Revolution in Military Affairs Elinor Camille Sloan, Université du Québec à Montréal. Centre d'études des politiques étrangères et de sécurité, Raoul-Dandurand Chair of Strategic and Diplomatic Studies, 2002 The campaign in Afghanistan the Gulf war and Kosovo show how advances in information technology are driving a high tech revolution in military affairs RMA This text outlines elements of the RMA and examines efforts of the US and NATO Army, 1999 Beyond the Law Witold Klaus, 2022-06-30 The study edited by Prof

dr habil Witold Klaus which is a legal commentary to the dramatic events that have been taking place on the Polish Belarusian border since August 2021 The humanitarian crisis unfolding there or in fact the Polish government s response to it not only does it raisemany moral but also legal questions The publication is the product of collaboration between two research centres operating at the Institute of Law Studies of the Polish Academy of Sciences the Migration Law Research Centre and the Centre for Research on International Criminal Law The authors represent various research institutions although most of them are active members of one of the PAS centres In this publication the authors attempt to answer the most important of the latter This selection of issues comes from questions and doubts appearing in press materials and also from requests made by people helping on the border and acting as part of the Grupa Granica organisation As you will see the issues we address in this publication cover many different areas of law which often overlap They concern migration law constitutional law administrative law criminal law humanitarian law international law and human rights law This required assembling an expert team of authors who would be capable of providing answers to these questions answers that are often far from obvious We have tried to make sure that this study has mainly a practical value For this reason our goal was to offer concise and detailed answers to the questions and doubts which have been raised The articles we are offering to readers are based on the academic expertise of the authors but we have tried to use relatively clear language and not to cloak our argumentation in convoluted legalese I hope that we have succeeded in doing so and that this publication will be of use to a wide range of readers who would like to understand how to evaluate the actions of those in power from a legal point of view
