

AROMATICS AND THE SOUL

A STUDY OF SMELLS

BY

DAN McKENZIE, M.D.

Dr. Dan McKenzie, a distinguished laryngologist and the author of the well-known text-book on Diseases of the Throat, Nose and Ear, has selected the sense of smell—the most ancient of all the senses—for a very curious and interesting study of Aromatics, the psychology of which is peculiarly fascinating.

He treats the various theories of olfaction at length, and clearly enough to be understood of the people, and, finally, in "Dust of the Rose Petal" gives some vivid pictures of some of his own memories roused by smell.

Altogether a charming little book, and one which shows how much of mystery and imagination lies within the domain of strictly scientific work, equally to be appreciated by both the scientific man and the general reader.
