Spiritual Boredom Dr. Erica Brown, 2012-05-17 Break the Surface of Spiritual Boredom to Find the Reservoir of Meaning Within We need to be bored When we get bored and take responsibility for our boredom we arrive at a new level of interest introspection or action that has been stirred by the very creativity used to keep boredom away The relationship between boredom and creativity is far from accidental Creative minds are often stimulated by boredom regarding it as a brain rest until the next great idea looms on the horizon of the otherwise unoccupied mind from Chapter 10 Boredom is a crisis of our age In religious terms boredom is sapping spirituality of its mystical and wholesome benefits slowly corroding our ability to recognize blessing and beauty in our lives to experience wonder and awe What happens when our need for constant newness minimizes our interest in prayer learning and the mysteries of nature This intriguing look at spiritual boredom helps you understand just what this condition is particularly as it relates to Judaism and what the absence of inspiration means to the present and future of the Jewish tradition Drawing insights from psychology philosophy and theology as well as ancient Jewish texts Dr Erica Brown explores the many ways boredom manifests itself within Judaism in the community classroom and synagogue and shows its potentially powerful cultural impact on a faith structure that advises sanctifying time not merely passing it

Handbook of Bioenergy Crop Plants Chittaranjan Kole, Chandrashekhar P. Joshi, David R. Shonnard, 2012-03-22 As the world's population is projected to reach 10 billion or more by 2100 devastating fossil fuel shortages loom in the future unless more renewable alternatives to energy are developed Bioenergy in the form of cellulosic biomass starch sugar and oils from crop plants has emerged as one of the cheaper cleaner and environmentally sustainable. The Oxford Handbook of Prosocial Behavior David A. Schroeder, William G. Graziano, 2015 The Oxford Handbook of Prosocial Behavior provides a comprehensive review of the current literature on when and why people act to benefit others It provides a comprehensive overview of the field to give both the casual reader and the neophyte to the field some perspective about fundamental questions what why when and who relative to prosocial behavior Taking a multi level approach the chapters represent the broad spectrum of this multi faceted domain Topics range from micro level analyses involving evolutionary and comparative psychological factors to macro level applications such as reducing intergroup conflicts and ethnic genocide Between these extremes the contributors all internationally recognized in their field offer their perspectives on developmental processes that may predispose individuals to empathize with and respond to the needs of others individual differences that seem to interact with situational demands to promote helping and the underlying motivations of those helping others They explain volunteerism intragroup cooperation and intergroup cooperation to move the analysis from the individual to group level phenomena They extend the consideration of this topic to include support of pro environmental actions means to encourage participation in medical clinical trials and the promotion of world peace The ways that gender interpersonal relationships race and religion might affect decisions to give aid and support to others are also addressed The final chapter offers a unique view of prosocial behavior that encourages researchers and readers to take an even broader consideration of the field to search for a prosocial consilience
