Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 - 12 Randall E. Groth, 2012-08-10 A journey into the vibrant and intriguing world of mathematics education Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 12 explores how research in mathematics education can inform teaching practice in grades 6 12 The author shows secondary mathematics teachers the value of being a researcher in the classroom by constantly experimenting with methods for developing students mathematical thinking and then connecting this research to practices that enhance students understanding of the material The chapters in Part I introduce secondary teachers to the field of mathematics education with cross cutting issues that apply to teaching and learning in all mathematics content areas The chapters in Part II are devoted to specific mathematics content strands and describe how students think about mathematical concepts The goal of the text is to have secondary math teachers gain a deeper understanding of the types of mathematical knowledge their students bring to grade 6 12 classrooms and how students thinking may develop in response to different teaching strategies Large-Scale Studies in Mathematics Education James A. Middleton, Jinfa Cai, Stephen Hwang, 2015-05-05 In recent years funding agencies like the Institute of Educational Sciences and the National Science Foundation have increasingly emphasized large scale studies with experimental and quasi experimental designs looking for objective truths Educational researchers have recently begun to use large scale studies to understand what really works from developing interventions to validation studies of the intervention and then to efficacy studies and the final scale up for large implementation of an intervention Moreover modeling student learning developmentally taking into account cohort factors issues of socioeconomic local political context and the presence or absence of interventions requires the use of large data sets wherein these variables can be sampled adequately and inferences made Inroads in quantitative methods have been made in the psychometric and sociometric literatures but these methods are not yet common knowledge in the mathematics education community In fact currently there is no volume devoted to discussion of issues related to large scale studies and to report findings from them This volume is unique as it directly discusses methodological issue in large scale studies and reports empirical data from large scale studies The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-29 In an era when corporate and political leaders are using their power to control every aspect of the schooling process in North America there has been surprisingly little research on the impact of textbook content on students The contributors of this volume and its partner The New Politics of the Textbook Problematising the Portrayal of Marginalized Groups in Textbooks guide educators school administrators academics and other concerned citizens to unpack the political social and cultural influences inherent in the textbooks of core content areas such as math science English and social science They urge readers to reconsider the role textbooks play in the creation of students political social and moral development and in perpetuating asymmetrical social and economic relationships where social actors are bestowed unearned privileges and entitlements based upon their race gender sexuality class religion and linguistic background Finally they suggest ways to resist the hegemony of those texts through critical analyses critical questioning and critical pedagogies Learning Over Time Alan P. Maloney, Jere Confrey, Kenny H. Nguyen, 2014-06-01 The driving forces behind mathematics learning trajectories is the need to understand how children actually learn and make sense of mathematics how they progress from prior knowledge through intermediate understandings to the mathematics target understandings and how to use these insights to improve instruction and student learning In this book readers will come to understand what learning trajectories are the research and methodology that are necessary for developing them and gain insight into potential applications of learning trajectories A synthesis and research outcome in their own right learning trajectories provide detailed description of instructionally grounded development of mathematical concepts and reasoning from the perspective of student learning and overall building on decades of accumulated experience in mathematics education research However their greater importance may lie in their potential as frameworks that contribute an unprecedented coherence across classroom instruction professional development standards and assessment by focusing squarely on conceptual understanding and reasoning instead of assessment driven procedural knowledge This potential was sufficiently compelling as an organizing framework to have been cited as a basis for the Common Core mathematics standards the new mathematics learning expectations that are now consistent across most of the United States Among the conference attendees were the writers of the Common Core State Standards for Mathematics at the beginning of the Standards drafting process This book is an outgrowth of a conference on learning trajectories hosted in 2009 at North Carolina State University which examined research on learning trajectories An overarching message of the chapters in this volume is that learning trajectories by focusing on how children's mathematical reasoning develops are coming into their own as a rigorous underpinning for both instruction and accountability Some of the learning scientists featured in this volume have played major roles learning trajectories evolution from small scale day to day conjectures by individual teachers to systematic research endeavors that teachers and scientists alike can use to interpret standards plan instruction and formatively assess student work The work in this volume will be of interest to mathematics educators teachers and professional development specialists Mathematical Reviews, 2005 Response to Intervention in Math Paul J.
