and the NP hard problems in global optimization. Additionally, readers will find a unified methodology and powerful algorithms for solving challenging problems in complex systems with real world applications in non convex analysis, non monotone variational inequalities, integer programming, topology optimization, post buckling of large deformed structures etc. Researchers and graduate students will find explanation and potential applications in multidisciplinary fields.

Boundary and Interior Layers, Computational and Asymptotic Methods BAIL 2016 Zhongyi Huang, Martin Stynes, Zhimin Zhang, 2017-10-26. This volume collects papers associated with lectures that were presented at the BAIL 2016 conference which was held from 14 to 19 August 2016 at Beijing Computational Science Research Center and Tsinghua University in Beijing, China. It showcases the variety and quality of current research into numerical and asymptotic methods for theoretical and practical problems whose solutions involve layer phenomena. The BAIL Boundary And Interior Layers conferences held usually in even numbered years bring together mathematicians and engineers, physicists whose research involves layer phenomena with the aim of promoting interaction between these often separate disciplines. These layers appear as solutions of singularly perturbed differential equations of various types and are common in physical problems, most notably in fluid dynamics. This book is of interest for current researchers from mathematics, engineering and physics whose work involves the accurate approximation of solutions of singularly perturbed differential equations that is problems whose solutions exhibit boundary and/or interior layers.
