

Background When Cory Doctorow (b. 1971) first saw the movie Star Wars at the age of six, he was inspired to rewrite the entire story as a self-made book. The movie sparked his desire to be a science fiction writer. Publishing his first story at 17, Doctorow has since produced many science fiction novels, short stories, and magazine articles. The author has an online presence as a blogger and makes most of his books available online for free.

Another Place, Another Time

Short Story by Cory Doctorow

SETTING A PURPOSE Science-based ideas are important in this story. As you read, think of the significance of these ideas to the characters—especially to Gilbert.

Gilbert hated time. What a tyrant it was! The hours that crawled by when his father was at sea, the seconds that whipped past when he was playing a brilliant game in the garden with the Limburgher children. The eternity it took for summer to arrive at the beach at the bottom of the cliffs, the flashing instant before the winter stole over them again and Father took to the sea once more.

"You can't hate time," Emmy said. The oldest of the three Limburghers and the only girl, she was used to talking younger boys out of their foolishness. "It's just time."

Gilbert stopped pacing the tree house floor and pointed a finger at her. "That's where you're wrong!" He thumped the book he'd taken out of his father's bookcase, a book fetched

The Face of the Other in Anglo-American Literature Marija Knežević, 2011-09-22 If we have established that our approach to the phenomena that are other to us is always a matter of semiosis and that even in an attempt to naturalize phenomenology like the one made by Maurice Merleau Ponty who points to the corporeity of consciousness as much as an intentionality of the body it appears that our most negligible movements present our cultural being or habituality cf Iris Young Throwing Like a Girl 1990 2005 However many thinkers have claimed for example the novelist D H Lawrence or philosopher Luce Irigaray that we know by touch and intuition The papers collected in this book examine our approach to these issues in an essentially post theory world particularly enquiring if twentieth century theory has left us clear directions of where we are supposed to be looking for new ways of understanding and representing the phenomenological The way the Other exists in the consciousness that as Hegel said always pursues its death becomes especially interesting in the context of the development of Anglo American studies in the post postmodern world which sees the West as a changeable cultural and geographical concept that incorporates a multiplicity of others Yet at the same time a number of contemporary Anglo American writers insists on the prolonged effects of colonialism in the modern world in which outbursts of violence and hatred aimed at the Other prove that the modern world still cannot approach the Other without bigotry
