Sub: My Years Underground in America's Schools Tom Gallagher, 2015-02-09 As a substitute teacher in the schools of San Francisco and South San Francisco since some time in the last millennium and in Boston before that Tom Gallagher sees kids on their worst behavior five days a week that's when business is good Once a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives where he was affectionately known as Tommy the Commie and sat on the Joint Committee on Education Gallagher currently holds the line against academic entropy in everything from pre Kindergarten through 12th Grade from Physics to Phys Ed The fundamental stance of Sub My Years Underground in America's Schools is why it dares raise questions like why the guy who invented middle schools was never prosecuted for crimes against humanity At the same time Gallagher finds much of the current national debate on education misplaced the system works just fine for some while for others schools are asked to solve problems in children's lives that are far beyond their scope Back cover The U.S.A.

Answers Kenneth E. Beer, 1961 Question and answer book compiled from questions most frequently asked about the U S by people abroad particularly at American Exhibition in Moscow in 1959 and at Italia 61 Exhibition The American Biology Teacher, 2001 Evolution, Creationism, and the Battle to Control America's Classrooms Michael Berkman, Eric Plutzer, 2010-09-20 Who should decide what children are taught in school This question lies at the heart of the evolution creation wars that have become a regular feature of the US political landscape Ever since the 1925 Scopes monkey trial many have argued that the people should decide by majority rule and through political institutions others variously point to the federal courts educational experts or scientists as the ideal arbiter Berkman and Plutzer illuminate who really controls the nation's classrooms Based on their innovative survey of 926 high school biology teachers they show that the real power lies with individual educators who make critical decisions in their own classrooms Broad teacher discretion sometimes leads to excellent instruction in evolution But the authors also find evidence of strong creationist tendencies in America's public high schools More generally they find evidence of a systematic undermining of science and the scientific method in many classrooms Making Minds Less Well Educated Than Our Own Roger C. Schank, 2004-04-26 In the author's words This book is an honest attempt to understand what it means to be educated in today's world His argument is this No matter how important science and technology seem to industry or government or indeed to the daily life of people as a society we believe that those educated in literature history and other humanities are in some way better informed more knowing and somehow more worthy of the descriptor well educated This 19th century conception of the educated mind weighs heavily on our notions on how we educate our young When we focus on intellectual and scholarly issues in high school as opposed to issues such as communications basic psychology or child raising we are continuing to rely on outdated notions of the educated mind that come from elitist notions of who is to be educated and what that means To accommodate the realities of today's world it is necessary to change these elitist notions We need to rethink what it means to be educated and begin to focus on a new conception of the very idea of education Students need to learn how to think not how to accomplish tasks such as passing standardized tests and reciting rote facts In this engaging book Roger C Schank sets forth the premises of his argument cites its foundations in the Great Books themselves and illustrates it with examples from an experimental curriculum that has been used in graduate schools and with K 12 students Making Minds Less Well Educated Than Our Own is essential reading for scholars and students in the learning sciences instructional design curriculum theory and planning educational policy school reform philosophy of education higher education and anyone interested in what it means to be educated in today s world

Educational Advisory Manual United States. War Department. Information and Education Division,1945 Naval Training Bulletin ,1944 Designs for Science Literacy American Association for the Advancement of Science,2001-03-22 The call for science curriculum reform has been made over and over again for much of the twentieth century Arguments have been made that the content of the curriculum is not appropriate for meeting the individual and social needs of people living in the modern world that the curriculum has become overstuffed with topics and does not serve students especially well and above all that the curriculum does not generate the student learning it is expected to produce The latest volume in a continuing series of publications from the AAAS designed to reform science education Designs for Science Literacy presupposes that curriculum reform must be considerably more extensive and fundamental than the tinkering with individual courses and subjects that has been going on for decades Designs deals with the critical issues involved in assembling sound instructional materials into a new coherent K 12 whole The book pays special attention to the need to link science oriented studies to the arts and humanities and also proposes how to align the curriculum with an established set of learning goals while preserving the American tradition of local responsibility for the curriculum itself If fundamental curriculum reform is ever to occur a new process for creating alternatives will have to be developed Designs for Science Literacy provides the groundwork for such a process Research in Education ,1972-05 Resources in Education ,1997 Science & Engineering Indicators ,2004 Soul Manifesto: A 49 day Journey to Great Healing, Health & Happiness Sade' E.
