6. Eclipses: Light and darkness are caused by the gravitational pull of other bodies in space. The moons gravitational pull acts on the same surface facing the moon. This pull causes the oceans bulging out into the water and opposite side bulge. The gravitational force compresses the opposite side of Earth's land into depressions. The oceans in between rise higher. They are pushed into them. Sometimes the land underneath bulge is pushed out and is not as strong as that of the moon.
