Annuity Alert: Beware of the Allianz Masterdex 10(TM) Jeffrey Voudrie, 2014-11-26 Dear Investment Minded Friend
Thank you for considering this report and may I say up front that you ll be glad you did That s because even though all the facts in this report are included in Allianz s materials I m going to present it in language that you may be more familiar with I am also going to explain how it affects you If you have been to a seminar on equity indexed annuities or had this product presented to you you have been shown one point of view In this report my purpose isn t to reiterate that point of view Instead I m going to present an opposing point of view Let me say up front that this is a biased report I do not like this product and I try to explain why Let me say that this is a biased report I don t like equity indexed annuities as they currently exist in the marketplace today Nor do I like the MasterDex 10 TM I believe the equity indexed annuity concept has merit but that currently the products on the market don t deliver the value that they should The industry CAN do better and it SHOULD You should know that this is not a complete analysis of all of the features associated with the MasterDex 10TM I assume that if you re reading this report that you have a basic understanding of what this product is designed to do My purpose here is to present a counter argument of why the MasterDex 10TM may not be what you are looking for In doing so I am looking at the MasterDex 10TM from an investment point of view I m comparing it to other investment possibilities Technically though the MasterDex 10TM is not an investment it s an insurance product As such it provides things that other investments do not This includes guaranteed benefits that last a lifetime principal protection and a minimum guaranteed interest rate Investments like mutual funds and stocks do not provide these guarantees
