This book is for experienced Access users who are familiar with creating Access objects and writing VBA code but who need help transitioning from competent users/programmers to full fledged Access developers.

Access Cookbook Ken Getz, Paul Litwin, Andy Baron, 2004-03-24. Not a reference book and not a tutorial either. The new second edition of the highly regarded Access Cookbook is an uncommonly useful collection of solutions to problems that Access users and developers are likely to face as they attempt to build increasingly complex applications. Although using any single recipe in the book will more than pay back the cost of the book in terms of both hours saved and frustration thwarted. Access Cookbook Second Edition is much more than a handy assortment of cut and paste code. Each of the recipes examines a particular problem/problems that commonly occur when you push the upper limits of Access or ones that are likely to trip up a developer attempting to design a more elegant Access application even some things you never knew Access could do. The authors then in a clear accessible step by step style present the problem's solution. Following each recipe are insights on how Access works, potential pitfalls, interesting programming techniques that are used in the solution and how and why the solution works so you can adapt the problem solving techniques to other similar situations. Fully updated for Access 2003. Access Cookbook Second Edition is also one of the first books to thoroughly explore new support for .NET managed code and XML. All of the practical real world examples have been tested for compatibility with Access 2003 Windows XP and Windows Server 2003. This updated new edition also covers Access and SharePoint Access and SmartTags Access and .NET and Access and XML. Access power users and programmers at all levels from the relatively inexperienced to the most sophisticated will rely on the Access Cookbook for quick solutions to gnarly problems. With a dog eared copy of Access Cookbook at your side you can spend your time and energy where it matters most working on the interesting facets of your Access application not just the time consuming ones.
