been avoided by reducing the amount of equipment the Department originally planned to buy Had the Department not reduced equipment numbers cost growth could have been between 18 2 billion and 19 4 billion approximately 20 per cent above the approved costs Minerals Yearbook Geological Survey,Interior Department,Mines Bureau,2019-02-15 This volume covering metals and minerals contains chapters on approximately 90 commodities In addition this volume has chapters on mining and quarrying trends and on statistical surveying methods used by Minerals Information plus a statistical summary Minerals Yearbook Geological Survey,Interior Department,Mines Bureau,2019-02-15 This volume covering metals and minerals contains chapters on approximately 90 commodities In addition this volume has chapters on mining and quarrying trends and on statistical surveying methods used by Minerals Information plus a statistical summary The Major Projects Report 2012 Great Britain: National Audit Office,2013-01-10 In respect of its largest defence projects there are early signs that the Ministry of Defence has begun to make realistic trade offs between cost time technical requirements and the amount of equipment to be purchased Nevertheless the continuing variances to cost and time show the MOD needs to do consistently better This report which gives a progress review of the 16 largest defence projects shows that in the last year there has been a total forecast slippage of 139 months and increase in costs of 468 million This means that since the projects were approved costs have increased by 6 6 billion around 12 per cent more than the planned cost and the projects have been delayed by 468 months taking almost a third longer than originally expected It would be unrealistic to expect MOD and industry to identify every risk at the start of technically challenging projects However the continuing problems indicate that MOD has more to learn from historic The MOD is accepting the capability risk and some wider costs resulting from these project delays and is having to make difficult decisions about long term capabilities The MOD has made a significant investment in new and upgraded helicopters to address the shortfall identified in the NAO s 2004 report The MOD has also spent 787 million on air transport and air to air refuelling aircraft to support current operations and address capability gaps such as those caused by the previously reported delays to the A400M transport aircraft However capability gaps remain
