Credit Rating Governance Ahmed Naciri, 2015-01-30 Credit rating agencies play an essential role in the modern financial system and are relied on by creditors and investors on the market. In the recent financial crisis their power and reliability were often questioned yet a simple rating downgrade could threaten to bankrupt a whole country. This book examines the governance of credit rating agencies as expressed by their ability to fairly ethically and consistently assign higher rates to issuers having lesser default risks. However factors such as the drive for increased revenue and market share the inadequate business model the inadequate methodology of assessing risk opacity and inadequate internal monitoring have all been identified as critical governance failures for credit agencies. This book explores these issues and proposes some potential solutions and improvements. This will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of corporate finance finance financial economics risk management investment management and banking Naval War College Review, 2014

Natural resources oil and gas in particular comprise the country's single largest revenue earner but the 170m person economy also has seen significant activity in recent years into the industrial financial telecoms and as of 2013 power sectors. Hydrocarbons reserves have traditionally attracted the vast majority of domestic and foreign investment in Nigeria. Oil production capacity has remained at roughly 2.5m barrels per day bpd since the start of 2000 although output fell to 2.2m bpd on average in 2012. Still the country has long operated below its true potential and government efforts in recent years have sought to increase local value addition by boosting refining capacity and minimising theft and bunkering.
