Heresy in the University Jacques Berlinerblau, 1999 One of the most controversial books to come out of the academy in the last fifteen years is Martin Bernal's Black Athena It has been a true cause celebre Afrocentrists have both praised the book and claimed that Bernal stole from the work of black scholars to create his study of the Afroasiatic roots of classical civilization Classicists feel passionately about what they perceive as an attack from an outsider on the origins not only of ancient Greece but of their own discipline It seems that everyone has something to say about the book the question is how many really understand it In Heresy in the University Jacques Berlinerblau provides an exegesis of the contents of Black Athena making it accessible to a wider audience As he clarifies and restates Bernal's opus Berlinerblau identifies Bernal's flaws in reasoning and gaps in evidence He cuts to the heart of Bernal's prose singling out the key points of Bernal's argument explaining and arranging them in a cogent manner Berlinerblau addresses the critics' really important objections including his own and links each of them to the appropriate substantive argument in Black Athena He goes beyond simple summary and exposition to present the underlying stated and unstated agendas of Bernal and his critics Ultimately he exposes both sides and asks what the flawed reasoning from all concerned reveals about the stakes in this key academic dispute and what that in turn says about the modern academy Jacques Berlinerblau is an assistant professor and director of Judaic studies at Hofstra University

Collapse and Transformation Guy D. Middleton, 2020-04-09 The years c 1250 to 1150 BC in Greece and the Aegean are often characterised as a time of crisis and collapse A critical period in the long history of the region and its people and culture they witnessed the end of the Mycenaean kingdoms with their palaces and Linear B records and through the Postpalatial period the transition into the Early Iron Age But on closer examination it has become increasingly clear that the period as a whole across the region defies simple characterisation there was success and splendour resilience and continuity and novelty and innovation actively driven by the people of these lands through this transformative century The story of the Aegean at this time has frequently been incorporated into narratives focused on the wider eastern Mediterranean and most infamously the Sea Peoples of the Egyptian texts In twenty five chapters written by 25 specialists Collapse and Transformation instead offers a tight focus on the Aegean itself providing an up to date picture of the archaeology before and after the collapse of c 1200 BC It will be essential reading for students and scholars of the Aegean and eastern Mediterranean regions as well as providing data and a range of interpretations to those studying collapse and resilience more widely and engaging in comparative studies Introductory chapters discuss notions of collapse and provide overviews of the Minoan and Mycenaean collapses These are followed by twelve chapters which review the evidence from the major regions of the Aegean including the Argolid Messenia and Boeotia Crete and the Aegean islands Six chapters then address key themes the economy funerary practices the Mycenaean pottery of the mainland and the wider Aegean and eastern Mediterranean region religion and the extent to which later Greek myth can be drawn upon as evidence or taken to reflect any historical reality The final four chapters provide a wider context for the Aegean story surveying the eastern Mediterranean including Cyprus and the Levant and the themes of subsistence and warfare
