Domesticated Animals, Their Relation to Man and to His Advancement in Civilization Nathaniel Southgate Shaler,1895 Unnatural Narratives - Unnatural Narratology Jan Alber,Rüdiger Heinze,2011-09-29 In recent years the study of unnatural narratives has become an exciting new but still disparate research program in narrative theory For the first time this collection of essays presents and discusses the new analytical tools that have so far been developed on the basis of unnatural novels short stories and plays and extends these findings through analyses of testimonies comics graphic novels films and oral narratives Many narratives do not only mimetically reproduce the world as we know it but confront us with strange narrative worlds which rely on principles that have very little to do with the actual world around us The essays in this collection develop new narratological tools and modeling systems which are designed to capture the strangeness and extravagance of such anti realist narratives Taken together the essays offer a systematic investigation of anti mimetic techniques and strategies that relate to different narrative parameters different media and different periods within literary history Mortimer J. Adler,2009-08-01 In this classic work Adler explores how man differs from all other things in the universe bringing to bear both philosophical insight and informed scientific hypotheses concerning the biological and behavioral characteristics of mankind Rapid advances in science and technology and the abstract concepts of that influence on man and human value systems are lucidly outlined by Adler as he touches on the effect of industrialization and the clash of cultures and value systems brought about by increased communication between previously isolated groups of people Among the other problems this study addresses are the scientific achievements in biology and physics which have raised fundamental questions about humanity s essential nature especially the discoveries in the biological relatedness of all living things Thrown into high relief is humanity s struggle to determine its unique status in the natural world and its value in the world it has created Ultimately Adler s work develops an approach to the separation between scientific and philosophical questions which stands as a model of thought on philosophical considerations of new scientific discoveries and its consequences for the human person The International Cyclopaedia Harry Thurston Peck,1892 Man's Origin and Destiny J.
