Annual Report on the Activities of the Committee on Ethics for the ... Congress United States. Congress. House. Committee on Ethics, 2015 Liberation Sociology Joe R. Feagin, Hernan Vera, Kimberly Ducey, 2015-11-17 Many people of all ages today continue to be attracted to sociology and other social sciences because of their promise to contribute to better political social and moral understandings of themselves and their social worlds and often because they hope it will help them to build a better society In a world of new movements and deepening economic inequality following the Great Recession this new edition is vital It features dozens of new examples from the latest research with an emphasis on the next generation of liberation sociologists The authors expand on the previous edition with the inclusion of sections on decolonisation paradigms in criminology critical speciesism and studies of environmental racism and environmental privilege There is an expanded focus on participatory action research and increased coverage of international liberation social scientists Work by psychologists anthropologists theologians historians and others who have developed a liberation orientation for their disciplines is also updated and expanded Satellite Ministries Febe Armanios, 2025 In 1981 a satellite television station called Star of Hope began broadcasting from Israeli occupied South Lebanon Backed by American missionaries Israeli politicians and Lebanese Catholic leaders the channel aired Western entertainment and Christian content using a repurposed ABC Monday Night Football truck situated on the Israel Lebanon border Later renamed Middle East Television METV its programming included American soap operas sports and evangelical content alongside innovative Arabic Christian televangelism It was a station of enormous consequence METV spurred the growth of competing Christian broadcasters and reshaped the Middle East's media and religious landscape over the next four decades Yet it was of course controversial its foreign imperialist and proselytizing approach to media was a source of curiosity and consternation in the region and occasionally around the world Through extensive fieldwork and archival research Febe Armanios explores how Western evangelicals and indigenous Christians harnessed terrestrial and satellite technologies to promote Christian television in the Middle East The fifteen channels analyzed in this study fall into three main categories Western backed conservative outlets with a charismatic and apocalyptic outlook middle ground channels that sought to balance their international sponsors expectations with local interests and grassroots initiatives rooted in ancient church traditions The histories and programming strategies of primarily Arabic but also Turkish and Persian Christian channels reveal how media producers forged unexpected political alliances pursued sectarian objectives and navigated various transnational influences Satellite Ministries explores how modern expressions of faith technology and political power intersected and clashed across the Global South and beyond In this groundbreaking work Armanios presents a crucial examination of this unique and little known media landscape Federal Register, 2013 "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2014", 2014 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020

Entertaining History Chris Mackowski, 2020-01-13 Popular media can spark the national consciousness in a way that captures people's attention, interests them in history and inspires them to visit battlefields, museums and historic sites. This lively collection of essays and feature stories celebrates the novels, popular histories, magazines, movies, television shows, photography and songs that have enticed Americans to learn more about our most dramatic historical era. From Ulysses S. Grant's Memoirs to Abraham Lincoln, Vampire Hunter, from Roots to Ken Burns's The Civil War from Dixie to Ashokan Farewell and from Civil War photography to the Gettysburg Cyclorama, trendy and well-loved depictions of the Civil War are the subjects of twenty contributors who tell how they and the general public have been influenced by them. Sarah Kay Bierle examines the eternal appeal of Gone with the Wind and asks how it is that a protagonist who so opposed the war has become such a figurehead for it. H. R. Gordon talks with New York Times bestselling novelist Jeff Shaara to discuss the power of storytelling. Paul Ashdown explores Cold Mountain's value as a portrait of the war as national upheaval and Kevin Pawlak traces a shift in cinema's depiction of slavery epitomized by 12 Years a Slave. Tony Horwitz revisits his iconic Confederates in the Attic twenty years later. The contributors' fresh analysis articulates a shared passion for history's representation in the popular media. The variety of voices and topics in this collection coalesces into a fascinating discussion of some of the most popular texts in the genres. In keeping with the innovative nature of this series, web-exclusive material extends the conversation beyond the book.

The History of the Arts Council of Northern Ireland, 1943-2016 Lara Cuny, 2022-10-17 This book presents the history of the Council for the Encouragement of Music and the Arts (CEMA) in Northern Ireland from its conception in 1943 and its successor organisation, the Arts Council of Northern Ireland (ACNI). Exploring the political and social impact of cultural policy in Northern Ireland, the book illustrates how the arts developed during the twentieth century and sheds light on the relationship between politics and culture. The author takes a closer look at the responsibilities of ACNI and examines its interaction with the unionist government which sought to influence how the organisation distributed its grants. Spanning the outbreak of the Troubles in the 1960s and the Peace Process in the 1990s, the ACNI evolved through a period of conflict and change and therefore this book argues that there was an undeniable link between the changing political environment and the management of the arts in Northern Ireland. The arm's length principle is analysed in relation to ACNI, examining the influence that the state had upon its management and governance. Offering a unique historical overview of the arts in Northern Ireland, this interdisciplinary book fills a gap in Irish history and presents insights into cultural policy, conflict resolution and political history.
