Teaching of Research Methodology Excellence Awards Widening University Access and Participation in the Global South Edward Mboyonga, 2024-12-31 Using a capability approach as an analytical framework this timely volume examines how access to higher education enabled through private universities can transform students' lives and contribute to human development in low income countries in the Global South. Providing new insights into the contribution of the private higher education sector in Africa's developmental agendas, the book offers an alternative to human capital theory by offering an expansive notion on the value of higher education emphasising both the economic and the intrinsic societal and social benefits that come from access to university and raised aspirations. The chapters identify and discuss six specific capabilities valued by students that higher education provides. This includes epistemological access, epistemic contribution, aspiration, recognition, respect and belonging, Ubuntu and employability. The book foregrounds the voices of students and lecturers to explore students' aspirations, agency, access and participation. Ultimately promoting a reconsideration of access to higher education beyond numerical terms by focusing on students' access to transformative knowledge as means to promote their freedom to achieve well-being, the book will appeal to scholars, researchers and postgraduate students in higher education, African education studies and international and comparative education more broadly. Budget Colorado Mountain College, 2018 Design as Scholarship Vanessa Svihla, RICHARD REEVE, 2016-01-29 For researchers in the Learning Sciences, there is a lack of literature on current design practices and its many obstacles. Design as Scholarship in the Learning Sciences is an informative resource that addresses this need by providing through a robust collection of case studies, instructive reference points and important principles for more successful projects. Drawing from the reflections of diverse practitioners, this text includes response sections that guide readers in understanding the research in the context of their own work. It touches upon educational technologies, community co-design and more, and is grounded in the critical analysis of experts seeking to grow the community. A Research Agenda for Global Environmental Politics Peter Dauvergne, Justin Alger, 2018-09-28 In a world confronted with escalating environmental crises, are academics asking the right questions and advocating the best solutions? This Research Agenda paves the way for new and established scholars in the field, identifying the significant gaps in research and emerging issues for future generations in global environmental politics. Climate Change and Critical Agrarian Studies Ian Scoones, Saturnino M. Borrás Jr., Amita Baviskar, Marc Edelman, Nancy Lee Peluso, Wendy Wolford, 2023-11-30 Climate change is perhaps the greatest threat to humanity today and plays out as a cruel engine of myriad forms of injustice, violence and destruction. The effects of climate change from human-made emissions of greenhouse gases are devastating and accelerating, yet are uncertain and uneven both in terms of geography and socio-economic impacts. Emerging from the dynamics of capitalism since the industrial revolution, as well as industrialisation under state-led socialism, the consequences of climate change are especially profound for the countryside and its inhabitants. The book interrogates the narratives and strategies that frame climate change and examines the institutionalised responses in agrarian settings highlighting what exclusions and inclusions result. It explores how different people in relation to class and other co-constituted axes of social difference such as gender, race, ethnicity, age, and occupation are affected by climate change as well as the climate adaptation and mitigation responses being implemented in rural areas. The book in turn explores how climate change and the responses to it affect processes of social differentiation, trajectories of accumulation, and in turn agrarian politics. Finally, the book examines what strategies are required to confront climate change and the underlying political-economic dynamics that cause it, reflecting on what this means for agrarian struggles across the world. The 26 chapters in this volume explore how the relationship between capitalism and climate change plays out in the rural world and in particular the way agrarian struggles connect with the huge challenge of climate change. Through a huge variety of case studies alongside more conceptual chapters, the book makes the often missing connection between climate change and critical agrarian studies. The book argues that making the connection between climate and agrarian justice is crucial. The chapters in this book were originally published in The Journal of Peasant Studies. The Open Access version of this book is available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/oa-edit/10.4324/9781003467960/climate-change-critical-agrarian-studies-ian-scoones-saturnino-borras-jr-amita-baviskar-marc-edelman-nancy-lee-peluso-wendy-wolford>. Nicotera, 2025-09-30. The second edition of Origins, Traditions, and Trends of Organizational Communication provides an updated overview of organizational communication, assessing the field to date and demonstrating a communicational approach to the study of organization. Tracing the field's history and development to the present, this edition is framed by the recent anti-racist, decolonial turn in the field, offering a set of conceptual structures and vocabularies to facilitate appreciation of the field's literature grounded in an understanding of its biases. It again provides students with background knowledge of foundational management theories in order to understand their influence on our thinking and our organizational world. Literature reviews on focused topics written by experts link organizational communication theory and research to practice. This edition is an ideal text for graduate courses in organizational communication and communication history.
