

JOURNAL ENTRIES CHEAT SHEET

GUIDE TO JOURNAL ENTRIES

DOUBLE-ENTRY BOOKKEEPING

Double-entry bookkeeping is a system of accounting that uses double entries to record transactions. Each transaction is recorded in two accounts: one as a debit and one as a credit. This system ensures that the accounting equation (Assets = Liabilities + Equity) is always balanced.

JOURNAL ENTRY

A journal entry is a record of a business transaction. It is written in a journal, which is a book or a computer file. Each entry includes the date, a description of the transaction, and the amounts of the accounts affected.

DEBITS & CREDITS

Debits and credits are the two sides of a double-entry transaction. Debits are recorded on the left side of an account, and credits are recorded on the right side. The accounting equation (Assets = Liabilities + Equity) must always be balanced.

ADJUSTING ENTRIES

Adjusting entries are journal entries that are used to adjust the accounts of a business. They are used to correct errors, to record accruals, and to record deferrals. Adjusting entries are made at the end of each accounting period.

REVERSING ENTRIES

Reversing entries are journal entries that are used to reverse the effect of an adjusting entry. They are made at the beginning of the next accounting period. Reversing entries are used to correct errors and to record accruals.

CLOSING ENTRIES

Closing entries are journal entries that are used to close the accounts of a business. They are made at the end of each accounting period. Closing entries are used to transfer the balances of the temporary accounts (revenues, expenses, and dividends) to the permanent accounts (assets, liabilities, and equity).
