Married to Islam M. F. Sawyer, Dalia Shah, 2007-05 Dalia Shah was a European who converted to Islam. Then she met and married an Arab European Moslem. At first things went well, but things changed. Religious differences, cultural problems, and her husband's depression all hurt her marriage and their children. This book tells of her early life and her dissatisfaction with Christianity in her home country. We share her travels abroad as a young woman, including a trip to Israel where she learned about Judaism. We also learn of her early studies of Buddhism. It was the Islam of the Koran that caught her, though. Except the Islam she thought she had joined is not that of the Koran. Instead, it is something skewed by people for very selfish ends. It is especially hurtful for women. Dalia reveals the secrets of the Marriage Contract, which, properly done, gives the spouse ensured child property and divorce rights along with freedom of travel. The events of 9/11 absolutely effected her marriage. Her perspectives as a Christian-born European Islamic woman to the War on Terror and the terrorists themselves are another very interesting part of Married To Islam. Surprises abound here. This is a book from which Christians, Moslems, and Jews can all gain a new understanding. Any persons thinking of marrying an Islamic person should absolutely read this. The Marriage Contract information alone makes it utterly worthwhile. It was wonderful to work with Dalia. To keep such a positive spirit after all she has endured, sometimes I think she has the patience of a saint. M. F. Sawyer Coauthor. Reading this book, I got to where I couldn't wait to find out what was going to happen next.

Amazon.com Painting the Digital River James Faure Walker, 2006 This book is as much about painting as it is about the digital world. But beyond both, it's really about visual intelligence. What makes it a joy to read is the lovely match between Faure Walker's subject and his style of writing, apparently artless, just making itself up as it goes along, but actually always with a witty spring and never slack.

MATTHEW COLLINGS, artist, critic, author, and television host. As a painter himself, James Faure Walker opens up a provocative dialogue between painting and digital computing that is essential reading for all painters interested in new technologies.

IRVING SANDLER, author, critic, and art historian. Faure Walker has a distinguished background as both a painter and digital artist. He is an early adopter of digital technology in this regard, so has lived the history of the ever-accelerating embrace of the digital. On top of this, he is a good storyteller and a clear writer who avoids the pitfalls of pretentious art-world jargon.

LANE HALL, digital artist and professor. Using a wide stream of fresh water as a metaphor, Faure Walker depicts a flow of ideas, concepts, and solutions that result in digital art. All the core elements of an art style in making are here, ties with mainstream and traditional art, stages of technological progress, and reflections on the bright and varied
