The U.S. Presidency

- The President of the United States holds arguably the most powerful office on the planet. In general, an executive is a person or group that has administrative and supervisory responsibilities in an organization or government.
- Article II, Section 1 of the Constitution states that “the executive power shall be vested in the President of the United States of America.”
- Recall that the founders were divided as to whether to establish a strong or a weak executive. Some feared concentrating power, while others saw the wisdom in having a single individual who could make decisions quickly.
