INTRODUCTION

Table tennis, or ping-pong, is an enjoyable sport but it can be highly competitive. Each player tries to outscore his opponent through the use of skill, strength, speed, stamina and strategy. The game is somewhat similar to tennis, where players hit the ball back and forth over a net.

The game is played on a table surface with the use of paddles and a ping-pong ball. The objective in the game is to be the first to score 21 points.

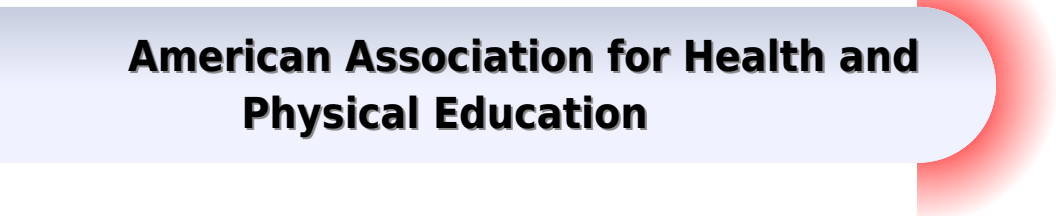

Table tennis is a game played by many people around the world. Games of table tennis are played in schools as well as homes. People young and old alike enjoy this fast-paced and action-packed game. For the serious player, there are many associations and organizations that sponsor competition. In addition, table tennis is an Olympic sport.

HISTORY

The origin of table tennis has never been exactly pinpointed, even though it's a relatively young sport. The sport is younger than lawn tennis and not much older than basketball.
