Reasoning With Democratic Values 2.0 Instructor's Manual DAVID E. HARRIS; ANNE-LISE HALVORSEN; PAUL F. DAIN.,David E. Harris,Anne Lise Halvorsen,Paul F. Dain, Goal-driven Learning Ashwin Ram,David B. Leake,1995 Brings together a diversity of research on goal driven learning to establish a broad interdisciplinary framework that describes the goal driven learning process In cognitive science artificial intelligence psychology and education a growing body of research supports the view that the learning process is strongly influenced by the learner s goals The fundamental tenet of goal driven learning is that learning is largely an active and strategic process in which the learner human or machine attempts to identify and satisfy its information needs in the context of its tasks and goals its prior knowledge its capabilities and environmental opportunities for learning This book brings together a diversity of research on goal driven learning to establish a broad interdisciplinary framework that describes the goal driven learning process It collects and solidifies existing results on this important issue in machine and human learning and presents a theoretical framework for future investigations The book opens with an an overview of goal driven learning research and computational and cognitive models of the goal driven learning process This introduction is followed by a collection of fourteen recent research articles addressing fundamental issues of the field including psychological and functional arguments for modeling learning as a deliberative planful process experimental evaluation of the benefits of utility based analysis to guide decisions about what to learn case studies of computational models in which learning is driven by reasoning about learning goals psychological evidence for human goal driven learning and the ramifications of goal driven learning in educational contexts The second part of the book presents six position papers reflecting ongoing research and current issues in goal driven learning Issues discussed include methods for pursuing psychological studies of goal driven learning frameworks for the design of active and multistrategy learning systems and methods for selecting and balancing the goals that drive learning A Bradford Book Improving Student Learning National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences,Committee on a Feasibility Study for a Strategic Education Research Program,1999-09-11 The state of America s schools is a major concern of policymakers educators and parents and new programs and ideas are constantly proposed to improve it Yet few of these programs and ideas are based on strong research about students and teachers about learning and teaching Even when there is solid knowledge the task of importing it into more than one million classrooms is daunting Improving Student Learning responds by proposing an ambitious and extraordinary plan a strategic education research program that would focus on four key questions How can advances in research on learning be incorporated into educational practice How can student motivation to achieve in school be increased How can schools

become organizations capable of continuous improvement How can the use of research knowledge be increased in schools This book is the springboard for a year long discussion among educators researchers policy makers and the potential funders federal state and private of the proposed strategic education research program The committee offers suggestions for designing organizing and managing an effective strategic education research program by building a structure of interrelated networks The book highlights such issues as how teachers can help students overcome their conceptions about how the world works the effect of expectations on school performance and the particular challenges of teaching children from diverse and disadvantaged backgrounds In the midst of a cacophony of voices about America s schools this book offers a serious long range proposal for meeting the challenges of educating the nation s children
