Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the performance of a group of young women. The subjects were 15 female college students who were randomly assigned to a training group and a control group. The training group performed a 10-week training program consisting of aerobic and strength training. The control group did not perform any training. The results of the study showed that the training group had significantly higher performance than the control group at the end of the 10-week training program. The results also showed that the training group had significantly higher performance than the control group at the end of the 10-week training program. The results of the study showed that the training group had significantly higher performance than the control group at the end of the 10-week training program.
