The Routledge Companion to Accounting, Reporting

and Regulation Carien van Mourik, Peter Walton, 2013-10-01 Financial accounting reporting and regulation is a vast subject area of huge global importance with interest rising significantly in the light of the ongoing global financial crisis. The authors begin with a broad overview of the subject of accounting setting the stage for a discussion on the theoretical and practical issues and debates regarding financial reporting which are expanded on in the second part of the book. This includes how to define the reporting entity, recognition and measurement of the elements of financial statements, fair values in financial reporting and the costs and benefits of disclosure. The third part assesses the interest need and theories behind the accounting reporting and regulation industry while parts four and five look at the institutional social and economic aspects with issues such as accounting for environmental management and accounting regulation and financial reporting in Islamic countries both issues of ever increasing importance. This authoritative Companion presents a broad overview of the state of these disciplines today and will provide a comprehensive reference source for students and academics involved in accounting regulation and reporting.

Accounting Education Research Richard M.S. Wilson, 2015-04-10 An annual prize is awarded for the best paper appearing in Accounting Education, an international journal, and this book contains the prize winning papers for every year from 1992 to 2012. The journal's primary mission since the first issue was published in March 1992 has been to enhance the educational base of accounting practice and all the papers in this book relate to that mission. These papers reporting on research studies undertaken by accounting education scholars from around the world build on research findings from the broader domain of education scholarship and embrace a wide array of topics including curriculum development, pedagogic innovation, improving the quality of learning and assessing learning outcomes. Of particular interest are three themes each of which runs through several of the papers: students' approaches to learning and learning style preferences, ethics and moral intensity, and innovation within the accounting curriculum. Accounting educators will find many ideas in the book to help them in enriching their work and accounting education researchers will be able to identify many points of departure for extending the studies on which the papers report, whether comparatively or
