Hurricanes and Indications
Overview/Gizmo

Gizmo Warm-up

You can use data collected from weather stations to study the characteristics of hurricanes. The Hurricane Motion Gizmo has three simulated weather stations. Turn on Show weather station data. Make sure Wind, Cloud cover, and Pressure are all checked.

The tails on each station symbol point in the direction the wind is coming from. The flags on the tail indicate wind speed, measured in knots. (One knot is equal to 1.15 mph.) A short line extending from the tail indicates 5 knots of wind. A longer line indicates 10 knots. A triangular flag indicates 50 knots. Add all the flags together to get the wind speed.

The number in the station's upper right is the air pressure, which is measured in millibars (mb).

The circle symbol indicates the percentage of cloud cover, as shown in the table at right.

Degree of Cloud Cover

Activity A:

Hurricane characteristics

Get the Gizmo ready:

- Make sure Practice, Show hurricane, and Show weather station data are selected.

Introduction: Hurricanes form when an area of low pressure forms over warm water. Winds blow toward the low pressure, but are deflected by Earth's rotation. The Coriolis effect causes winds to curve to the right in the Northern Hemisphere and to the left in the Southern Hemisphere. This results in a counterclockwise rotation for Northern Hemisphere hurricanes and a clockwise rotation for Southern Hemisphere hurricanes.

Question: What are some characteristics of hurricanes?

- Observe: In which hemisphere is the hurricane shown on the Gizmo? How do you know?

It is shown in the Northern Hemisphere and I know this because when the hurricane moves to the right it is the Northern Hemisphere and when it moves to the left it is the Southern Hemisphere.
